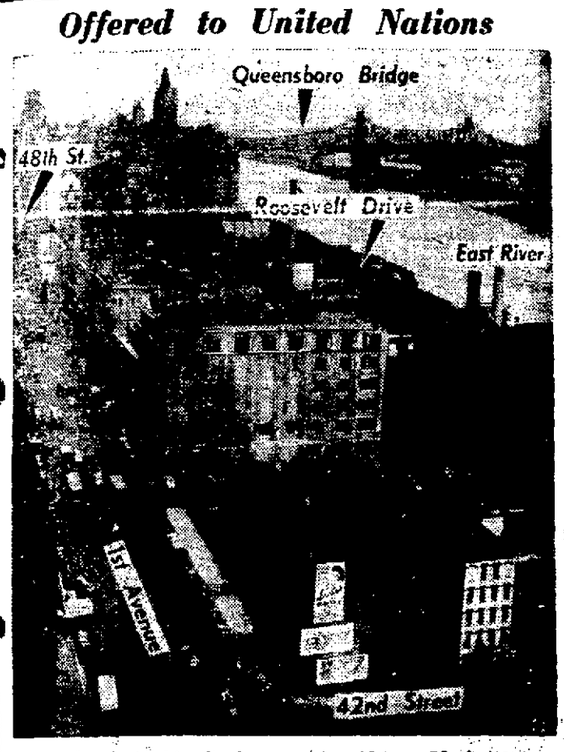
Eight Persons Are Killed After New York Fire, Blast

Offered to United Nations



Offer of an outright gift of an area in mid-town Manhattan as a permanent home for the United Nations was announced at Lake Success, N. Y. The area (above) is bounded by First Avenue and Franklin D. Roosevelt Drive, 42nd and 48th streets. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., made the offer to purchase the area at a cost of $8,500,000 and turn it over to the United Nations. The purchase price includes all property in the area with the exception of a small block which, Rockefeller said, New York city has agreed to obtain and turn over to the UN.

Tenement House Is Crumpled When Five-Story Wall Collapses

New York, Dec. 12 (AP)—At least eight persons were killed and 38 others, including children, were believed buried under tons of debris following a five-alarm fire early today in an abandoned ice house on Manhattan's Upper West Side, which caused a five-story wall to collapse crumbling an adjoining tenement building.

Police and firemen, digging frantically against time, removed four bodies from the wreckage and said they had sighted four more. Nearby hospitals admitted more than a score of injured. Ambulances were rushed to the scene and a first aid station was set up.

The identified dead are Frank Moorehead, 27-year-old fireman; Anthony Biancardi, 11; Daniel Corrado, 25, and Thomas Phillips, 70. All except the fireman were residents of the tenement building.

Fire Marshal Thomas P. Brophy said the cause of the fire was not known. A small rubbish fire had been extinguished the day before in the ice plant, located at 484 West 184th street.

The noise of the toppling walls caused first reports to list the disaster as an explosion.

Portion Is Flattened

The pile of rubble from the tenement building was as high as the second story. One portion of the tenement was flattened, the other wrecked by the force of the collapse, which virtually sheared the building in half.

Blood plasma units were available at the scene. Priests from a nearby parish climbed over the debris to administer last rites as two derricks bit into the wreckage.

Police pulled from the wreckage Joseph Popper, Jr., nine years old. He had cried and shouted until help reached him. He said his brother and sister still were trapped.

Nick Sloan, 29, also was pulled out alive. He guided his rescuers by shouting and throwing stones and rubble. His wife, brother and two little daughters still were missing under the rubble.

Special emergency crews tearing at the wreckage with bars, picks and bare hands came across the pitiful remnants of gaily wrapped Christmas packages, holly and bits of tinsel.

One priest, the Rev. David Rea, climbed a ladder to reach a broken body and gave last rites. He also saw the legs and feet of two others protruding from the wreckage.

O'Dwyer Goes to Scene

Mayor William O'Dwyer rushed to the scene and promised an investigation. Crowds watched rescue efforts from nearby rooftops and police roped off nearby streets.

Among those listed as missing were a mother, Mrs. Edith Dirica, 31, and three children, Charles, 12, Margaret, 5, and Mary, six months.

The collapse came 15 minutes after the fire broke out at 12:10 a. m. Charles Whitecroff, nearby resident, said the explosion "felt like an earthquake" and was followed by "terrible screaming of children."

After the collapse firemen heard frantic cries from the ruins and were able to drag out a number of victims.

Dr. Harry M. Archer, fire department surgeon, said he had crawled into the rubble and had given a hypodermic injection to a woman who clutched the dead body of a young boy.

The Rev. Joseph A. Boyle, fire department chaplain, also went into the ruins. He said he heard a woman calling weakly, "Please get me out of here. I'm all right." Firemen worked toward her.

Many of the more than 200 firemen at the scene formed a human chain, passing bricks, wood, masonry and smashed furniture to the street so rescue crews could dig deeper.

One crew of firemen tunneled with their hands through six feet of wreckage to reach a young girl, still alive. She was given a hypodermic injection.

A fireman wept with relief as he carried to safety a small boy who was still able to smile, though injured.

Rescuers dug into a pile of rubble reaching to the second floor of the tenement, which was virtually sheared in half with one portion flattened and the other wrecked.

The blaze in the unused building, an ice house, was first re-

Industry Fears Wave New Strikes

C.I.O. Insistence Is Basis; Leaders Say High Prices Result of Spring Boosts

Views Expressed

N.A.M., Others Say Demands Threaten System

Washington, Dec. 12 (AP)—Industry leaders declared today the C.I.O.'s fresh insistence that wages can be raised without boosting prices may lead to "another series of serious strikes."

They recalled the C.I.O. had employed the same argument in pressing its initial postwar wage demands in the steel, automobile and other heavy industries last spring but that prices had gone up following the wage increases.

In preparing for a new round of pay demands, C.I.O. President Philip Murray said yesterday C.I.O. unions will embrace as their "guidepost" a survey contending that present industry profit levels will permit wages to be raised up to 25 per cent without hiking prices or cutting profits much below wartime peaks.

This survey was made for the C.I.O. by Robert R. Nathan, consulting economist and former leading government economic planner and war agency official.

Nathan cautioned that unless wages are increased promptly or priced reduced sharply, lagging purchasing power on the part of workers may plunge the nation into a depression.

The Nathan report drew the assertion from Walter B. Weisenburger, executive vice president of the National Association of Manufacturers, that it means "an invitation for a new round of wage demands, possibly followed by another series of serious strikes."

Bargaining Harm Seen

A similar reaction came from George Romney, general manager of the Automobile Manufacturers' Association.

"General profit forecasts, such as that just released by the C.I.O.," Romney declared in a statement, "obstruct genuine collective bargaining and promote the type of industrial strife which similar reports generated a year ago.

"Such national forecasting completely disregards the fact that, in our profit and loss economy, even in the most prosperous times, many firms and even whole industries are losing money."

Nathan qualified his report to the extent that he said his findings considered industrial profits on the average and recognized they varied as between plants and industries.

Romney recalled that Nathan as deputy war mobilizer was the author of an earlier report last

Woodstockers Will Fight District Reorganization

Rapp-Coudert Hearing Will Offer Master Plan; Fear Central Idea in Peril

The Rapp-Coudert Committee on Education has called a meeting to be held at the Assembly chamber in Albany on Thursday, December 19, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of considering "a master plan for school district reorganization in Ulster county."

Just what this plan contemplates has not been disclosed but it is believed to be a plan which will be recommended to the State Department of Education for rearrangement and replanning school districting for the county.

Several local people have already indicated that they will attend the meeting. Among them will be John E. Egan, attorney, who will appear on behalf of the citizens of the township of Woodstock. The people of the town of Woodstock have for some time been interested in the forming of a central school district for the town.

Vote Taken in September

Following a vote on September 17, when there were 454 votes cast for and 87 against the forming of a town central school district, a petition has been filed by the citizens of Woodstock asking for a public hearing on their application for the formation of a central school district to embrace the township.

For some time there has been a movement, which appears to have the favor of the State Education Department, to form a central school district to embrace the townships of Woodstock, Olive and Shandaken. This three-town central district contemplates a central district which would include a high school. The Woodstock town plan does not contemplate a high school.

The Woodstock delegation will go to Albany ready to present its plan and oppose the formation of any re-organization under a "master plan" which might dim their chances of forming a town of Woodstock central district.

The Rapp-Coudert Committee was formed four years ago to investigate New York schools and has widened its scope to include other schools and plans. Each year the committee has made reports to the State Commissioner of Education on school matters with recommendations.

Egan to Appear

Speaking for the Woodstock central school district group, Mr.

Body Might Be That Of Garret Newkirk

The United States Coast Guard has recovered the body of a man, tentatively identified as that of Garrett Newkirk, formerly of Kingston, who mysteriously disappeared from the S. S. District of Columbia on November 27 while the boat was on its way from Norfolk, Va., to Washington, D. C. The body is being held by North Carolina authorities for further identification following its recovery by the coast guard off the North Carolina coast Tuesday.

Newkirk, a former Red Cross worker and O.P.A. employe, disappeared from the ship while en route to Washington.

Control Near End

Washington, Dec. 12 (AP)—President Truman made ready today to unveil the government's single new "liquidation" office—the next to the last step toward junking the whole network of wartime control agencies.

Election Assured

Blum May Be President and Premier; Bidault Won't Oppose

Paris, Dec. 12 (AP)—Socialist Leon Blum, 74, was elected president-premier today of the interim French Government which will serve until mid-January.

Paris, Dec. 12 (AP)—Socialist Leon Blum, 74, was virtually assured of election as president-premier of the interim French government today, when Georges Bidault's M.R.P. (Popular Republican Movement) party decided not to present an opposition candidate.

Agreement on the candidacy of Blum, premier of the 1936 "Popular Front" government, ended a two-weeks old cabinet crisis. He was due to be elected by a nearly unanimous vote later in the day by the National Assembly, meeting for its third try at electing an interim president-premier.

Blum's most outstanding role since he was liberated from a German prison camp in May, 1945, was the negotiation of the United States loan to France last spring.

Dewey Says State Faces Difficulty Balancing Budget

Higher Welfare, Relief Costs Are Basis for Report; Won't Raise Taxes

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 12 (AP)—New York state faces a difficult time balancing a record 1947-48 state budget, Governor Dewey says, but present business and personal income tax cuts will be maintained.

The governor, in his first news conference since returning from a southern vacation, said yesterday the new budget to be presented the 1947 legislature would top this year's $555,000,000 outlay because of higher welfare and relief costs and other increased state expenses.

He described budget problems as acute and declared that estimates for the next fiscal year were by no means cheerful.

The present 50 per cent slash in personal income taxes will be continued, however, Dewey added, as will reductions made this year in business taxes.

Dewey, wading through what he described as a mountain of work during the two days he was back in his office scheduled a series of conferences in New York today and tomorrow. From New York he will go to Washington for a meeting of the Castle Rock Survivors Association tomorrow night and the annual Gridiron Club dinner Saturday.

The Castle Rock group consists of members of Dewey's 1944 presidential campaign party who were

President Blames Strikes For Continued War Powers

President Revamps Emergency Setup

Truman Abolishes W.M.B. Reconversion Office, Names Assistant

Washington, Dec. 12 (AP)—President Truman today revamped the entire war emergency setup. He abolished the War Moblization and Reconversion Office and named John R. Steelman as assistant to the President.

The President made public at his news conference an executive order under which he named Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming as head of a new office of temporary controls, which will carry on remaining functions of O.P.A., O.W.M.R., the Civilian Production Administration, and the Office of Economic Stabilization.

Steelman, the new assistant to the President, has been reconversion director and economic stabilizer.

Mr. Truman at the same time named Raymond N. Foley as housing administrator and Frank R. Creedon as housing expediter, the two posts recently relinquished by Wilson W. Wyatt at a controversy with the R.F.C. over loans for prefabricated housing.

In an executive order the President abolished the Wage Stabilization Board as of February 24, and the Economic Stablization Board immediately.

The Chief Executive made it clear that he has no intention of abandoning rent controls.

In response to reporters' questions as to whether an immediate increase in rent ceilings was in prospect, Mr. Truman said that he had no plans to order such an increase.

He added, however, that there was a possibility that some increases might be under consideration by O.P.A.

Truman Declines Any Elaboration; Asks What is Radical About Changes

Washington, Dec. 12 (AP)—If it hadn't been for strikes, President Truman said today, it would have been possible to end the war emergency before now.

The Chief Executive made the flat statement, without elaboration, during questioning at a news conference in which he announced a revamping of war agencies and disclosed he intends to send three separate messages to the new Republican-controlled Congress.

The subject was brought up by a reporter who asked when the President might recommend termination of the war emergency. He declined to speculate, but observed that it could have been done before this if strikes had not interrupted reconversion.

Many of the executive powers now held by the President will cease with the conclusion of the war emergency.

The Chief Executive gave only a bare outline of his forthcoming messages to Congress and declined to talk about the outlook for any reduction in taxes. Some Republican leaders have advocated a tax cut, while Democratic legislative chieftains have insisted that the public debt should be pared first.

Told that the Republicans in Congress were saying they would not cooperate if he makes "radical" recommendations, Mr. Truman asked, who can say what is radical?

Will Ask Needed Changes

He said his recommendations in his state of the union message would call for what he believes to be necessary for the welfare of the United States.

This message will embrace his viewpoint, he said, adding that members of Congress were entitled to have theirs.

He refused to be drawn into a discussion of the administration's future policy toward John L. Lewis, chief of the United Mine Workers, against whom the government is waging a court fight.

Mr. Truman told questioners the Lewis matter was in the courts and he would have nothing to say

Two Men Admit Jewel, Cash Thefts

Selection of Jury Is Begun at Monticello for Third Man

Monticello, N. Y., Dec. 12 (AP)—Two men pleaded guilty today at the opening of their trial on charges of first degree grand larceny in the theft of two safes containing an estimated $50,000 in cash and jewels from the Congress Hotel at Sackett Lake, last July.

Selection of a jury was begun for the trial of the third man, Walter Gulla, 31, on charges of grand larceny and possession of burglar tools. The two who pleaded guilty before Sullivan County Judge George L. Cooke were George Gulla, 23, brother of Walter, and Frank Leotta, 25. All three are from New York city.

The two safes were taken from

State Legislature Will Get 15 Proposed Amendments

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 12 (AP)—Fifteen proposed amendments to the state constitution are up for consideration by the 1947 legislature, but only a half-dozen are given more than a slim chance of winning approval.

Assured of passage, in the opinion of legislative leaders, is the $400,000,000 veterans' bonus measure, which has bi-partisan support. It was approved unanimously at the 1946 session.

The legislative showdown on the others, endorsed by either the 1945 or 1946 legislatures, will come at the impending session, which must approve them before they can be voted upon by the people next fall.

The new legislature's task will be to decide which one of several resolutions on the same subject should be approved, if any.

Given the best chance of passage, besides the bonus, are proposals which would:

Increase the terms of state senators from two years to four.

Permit the legislature to raise the $2,500 salary of its members.

Permit absentee voting by service personnel and their families in peace as well as war.

Liberalize procedure for the ouster of judges from office through establishment of a special court empowered to remove them for cause after trial or to retire them for physical or mental disability.

Estabish a new Supreme Court Judicial District in Long Island's present second district.

Deemed questionable, because the need diminished with the end of the war, is a proposal permitting judges to serve in the armed forces.

Also on the doubtful list, because of anticipated opposition from sportsmen's groups, are three measures to permit construction of specified recreational buildings and ski trails in the forest preserve and enable the legislature to authorize the taking of gold, silver or other metals from forest preserve lands.

Two propositions to change the pay of legislators are up for consideration. One would increase their present annual salary of $2,500 to $3,000. The other, given the best chance of passage, would strike out the $2,500 constitutional limitation and permit the legislature to fix its salary by statute.

Of the 15 suggested constitutional changes, 10 were endorsed by the 1946 legislature and five in 1945. Before an amendment can be submitted to the people, it must be passed by two successive legislatures whose membership has been changed by an intervening election.

Invited to Listen

Bilbo Is Asked to Hear Complaint Testimony on War Contracts

Washington, Dec. 12 (AP)—Senator Bilbo (D.-Miss.) who often has demonstrated that he can be one of the most persistent talkers in the Senate, was invited to do some listening today.

Three colleagues asked the vociferous Mississippian to be on hand to hear testimony concerning complaints that a group of war contractors had given Bilbo more than $30,000 in cash, a new home, an automobile and other things in return for the Senator's aid in lining up war jobs.

Senators Mead (D.-N.Y.), Tunnell (D.-Del.) and Ferguson (R.-Mich.) called the hearing as a subcommittee of the Senate war investigating committee which ordered a thorough hearing of the complaints.

Eight Are Killed After Fire Blast

ported at 12:10 a. m. (E.S.T.) and five alarms brought 25 fire companies and a number of ambulances.

Fire Marshal Thomas P. Brophy said shortly before dawn that the cause of the fire and explosion still had not been determined. He reported, however, that a small rubbish blaze in the building, located at 184th street and Amsterdam avenue in Manhattan, was extinguished quickly late yesterday afternoon.

The mother and children believed trapped in the smashed dwelling were identified as Mrs. Edith Dirica, 31, and her children, Charles, 12; Margaret, 5, and Mary, six months.

James Giancotti, an uncle who identified the Biancardi boy, said he believed several other members of the Biancardi family also were buried in the mountain of timber, broken plaster and other materials. He listed them as:

Elizabeth Biancardi, 35, mother of the family, and her three children, Lucille, 8; Morina, 6, and Joyce, 12. A son, Andrew, 9, escaped by running from the building just ahead of the collapse.

Boy Is Extricated

Nine-year old Joseph Poppas, Jr., was extricated from the debris at 7:20 a. m. and removed to Columbia - Presbyterian Medical Center in good condition.

Firemen asked the boy if anyone was caught with him when the building collapsed.

"Yes, my brother and my sister," the boy said.

Neighbors said the boy lived on the second floor of the demolished tenement with his brother, John, his sister, Barbara, his mother, Eileen, and his father, Joseph.

Residents of an adjoining tenement house were evacuated when officials declared it unsafe.

Mayor William O'Dwyer said he was directing authorities to investigate.

Charles Whitecroff, a 30-year-old repairman who desides in a building adjoining the tenement, said he heard "terrible screaming of children coming from the house that collapsed" and that "it was awful."

Felt Like Earthquake

Whitecroff, who said he was watching the fire from his apartment, said the explosion "felt like an earthquake," and that "it seemed like the whole apartment was coming down on us." He said his father, Edmund, 65, was knocked to the floor, and that falling plaster and dust were so thick that he couldn't see his mother across the room. He said he groped his way to her and led her to the street after she called out "here I am."

There was no immediate official word as to the origin of the fire in the ice house, owned by the Knickerbocker Ice Company.

Anthony Alexander, who lives nearby, said there had been a fire in it at 5:45 p. m. last night and "the firemen fought it until about 8 o'clock, when they went back to their barns."

Catholic priests from neighboring parishes administered the last rites of the church to injured persons.

N. Y. Painter Held For Burglaries in Mt. Marion Area

A series of burglaries in the vicinity of Mt. Marion are believed to have been solved by Sergeant Arthur Reilly and Trooper Rock of the Lake Katrine B.C.I. unit through the arrest yesterday of Frank Benke, 33, of 310 East 69th street, New York. Benke was arrested yesterday at a Mt. Marion place where he had been living and doing painting and decorating for the owner, who resides in New York city.

Around Thanksgiving Benke came to Mt. Marion to do work on the premises and had been living in the place.

Recently a series of burglaries have been reported, among them Camp Wahkonda, where several of the camp buildings were entered and numerous articles and food taken. Padlocks on the buildings were broken and the main house, the house where the Sisters stay, the dining room and kitchen all were entered. Canned foods, electric clocks and a quantity of bottled wine were missing. Entrance was made on more than one occasion. The D. Hornbeck camp at Mt. Marion was also entered about 10 days ago and fishing tackle and groceries were missing.

Articles Recovered

The burglaries have been under investigation for some time by the Troopers and last night the officers visited the place where Benke was staying and there recovered a quantity of the missing articles. Some of the food and electric clocks were recovered as well as articles from the Hornbeck place.

Benke was arraigned before Police Justice E. E. Schirmer at Saugerties this morning. He waived examination and was held for grand jury action and committed to jail. Benke is a painter and decorator by trade.

The investigation is still being continued to locate other missing articles.

At the time of the collision, the Services were enroute from Englewood to Rahway, N. J., to visit friends. Details of the accident have not been announced.

Must Get Approval

New York, Dec. 12 (AP)—A United Nations sub-commitee wrote a new safeguard into the nebulous world arms reduction plans today by providing that any program drafted in the Security Council must be approved by a special session of the 54-nation general assembly. The new factor was injected into the arms resolution as Assembly President Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium announced he was prepared to stay in New York until "Christmas 1948" if necessary to break the stalemate over the arms reduction program and troop census.

Fraud and Deceit Action in Court

Three Negligence Actions Announced Settled

An action for fraud and deceit, brought by Joseph A. Varno against Ernest J. Brackman, arising out of a real estate transaction, went to trial in Supreme Court today, after announcement that settlement had been reached in three negligence cases.

In today's fraud and deceit case, Joseph Avis was attorney for plaintiff and John A. Bonomi for defendant.

One negligence action, settled Wednesday, was brought by Madeline Reynolds of Kingston against Nick Manalaskos of New Paltz and John F. Bradley of Mt. Vernon.

Miss Reynolds sought recovery for injuries suffered in an automobile accident last March near New Paltz. She was a passenger in the Bradley car when it was in collision with the Manalskos auto.

The other settlements were in two negligence actions brought by Andre Micolci as administrator, and John B. Mayone as administrator, against Guy F. Axtel of Saugerties and another for two deaths that occurred when the Axtel car was involved in an accident on the Saugerties-Woodstock road.

spring saying wages could be raised without price increases.

"Same Situation True"

Nathan, replying to reporters' questions on his latest report, said he still felt the spring wage boosts could have been granted without price increases and added the same situation is true now. Newsmen queried Nathan at a luncheon whose guests included Chairman Edwin G. Nourse of President Truman's new Economic Advisory Council and Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug, a key figure in the recent government court actions against Mine Union Chief John L. Lewis.

Nourse is drafting his own economic report for President Truman.

There was no immediate A.F.L. comment on the Nathan-C.I.O. document. But the A.F.L. convention in Chicago last October criticized the C.I.O.'s spring demands on industry as too high and contended the C.I.O. wage increases were responsible for breaking the line on price ceilings.

The A.F.L. convention said its unions obtained pay increases without strikes and without "in any case breaking price ceilings."

Search for Plane Shifts to Rainier

'Green Flare' Reports Are Called 'Rumor'

Seattle, Dec. 12 (AP)—The rapidly shifting search for a Marine Corps transport plane, missing with 32 men since Tuesday afternoon, swung south back to the south slope of towering Mt. Rainier early today after authorities declared the "green flare" reports from the Toledo, southeast Washington area to be "rumor."

The new location, which itself had once been abandoned in favor of the flare report, is within 14 miles of where 10 men plummeted to their death when a Boeing stratoliner broke apart and crashed during a test flight power dive in March of 1939.

Coast Guard parties moved into thee Longmire area of the 14,480-foot Mt. Rainier several hours after midnight.

The Army Air Forces returned to McChord Field near Tacoma for the night planning to renew activities at Longmire at dawn with winter equipment.

Flooding streams and heavy rains hampered the hunt and brought spoken fears from authorities that possible survivors of a crash would suffer greatly from exposure.

Thick weather yesterday grounded all but one of the service search-planes ordered to seek the big transport which last was heard from when she radioed at 4:13 p. m. Tuesday a few miles south of Toledo. It was en route from San Diego, Calif., with a crew of three and 29 marines being transferred to Seattle.

Earlier a plane, in apparent trouble, had been heard flying over Randle, some 12 miles south of Mount Rainier, and by a ranger at a lookout station on Strawberry Mountain, 12 miles farther south. These informants believed it crashed soon after.

Rooks to Become UNRRA Director

Succeeds F. H. LaGuardia in Relief Organization

Washington, Dec. 12 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Lowell W. Rooks, American army officer, was nominated today to succeed Fiorello LaGuardia December 31 as director general of U.N.R.R.A.

U.N.R.R.A.'s nine-nation Central Committee unanimously nominated him and adopted an expression of regret at LaGuardia's decision to resign. The 48-nation U.N.R.R.A. conference is expected to approve the appointment tomorrow.

Rooks, currently deputy director, will direct the expiring relief agency's final three months of aid to the Far East and help wind up relief operations in Europe.

LaGuardia, U.N.R.R.A. chief for the past nine months, told a reporter he plans to "relax, write and think after he quits his position.

Rooks is on loan to U.N.R.R.A. from the army. He was deputy chief of staff under General Dwight D. Eisenhower in the German campaign, commanded the 90th Division in the final stages of the "Battle of the Bulge," and helped to crack the Siegfried Line.

There are prospects of an American-Soviet dispute over the method of winding up U.N.R.R.A.

A total gross budget for 1947 amounting to $1,023,615.13, or $140,165.03 more than the 1946 budget, was presented by the Committee on Appropriations Wednesday evening and unanimously adopted by the Board of Supervisors. While the gross budget is considerably larger than that of the present year, the net increase is only $45,382.45, due to the greater amounts in refunds and chargebacks through increased state funds. Bilbo Is Asked to Hear Complaint Testimony on War Contracts

Washington, Dec. 12 (AP)—Senator Bilbo (D.-Miss.) who often has demonstrated that he can be one of the most persistent talkers in the Senate, was invited to do some listening today.

Three colleagues asked the vociferous Mississippian to be on hand to hear testimony concerning complaints that a group of war contractors had given Bilbo more than $30,000 in cash, a new home, an automobile and other things in return for the Senator's aid in lining up war jobs.

Senators Mead (D.-N.Y.), Tunnell (D.-Del.) and Ferguson (R.-Mich.) called the hearing as a subcommittee of the Senate war investigating committee which ordered a thorough hearing of the complaints.

Woodstocker District Reo

Body Might Be That Of Garret Newkirk

The United States Coast Guard has recovered the body of a man, tentatively identified as that of Garrett Newkirk, formerly of Kingston, who mysteriously disappeared from the S. S. District of Columbia on November 27 while the boat was on its way from Norfolk, Va., to Washington, D. C. The body is being held by North Carolina authorities for further identification following its recovery by the coast guard off the North Carolina coast Tuesday.

Newkirk, a former Red Cross worker and O.P.A. employe, disappeared from the ship while en route to Washington.

Control Near End

Washington, Dec. 12 (AP)—President Truman made ready today to unveil the government's single new "liquidation" office—the next to the last step toward junking the whole network of wartime control agencies.

Election Assured

Blum May Be President and Premier; Bidault Won't Oppose

Paris, Dec. 12 (AP)—Socialist Leon Blum, 74, was elected president-premier today of the interim French Government which will serve until mid-January.

Paris, Dec. 12 (AP)—Socialist Leon Blum, 74, was virtually assured of election as president-premier of the interim French government today, when Georges Bidault's M.R.P. (Popular Republican Movement) party decided not to present an opposition candidacy.

Agreement on the candidacy of Blum, premier of the 1936 "Popular Front" government, ended a two-weeks old cabinet crisis. He was due to be elected by a nearly unanimous vote later in the day by the National Assembly, meeting for its third try at electing an interim president-premier.

Blum's most outstanding role since he was liberated from a German prison camp in May, 1945, was the negotiation of the United States loan to France last will be John P. [illegible] who will appear on behalf of the citizens of the township [illegible] stock. The people of the town of Woodstock have for some time been interested in the forming of a central school district for the town.

Vote Taken in September

Following a vote on September 17, when there were 454 votes cast for and 87 against the forming of a town central school district, a petition has been filed by the citizens of Woodstock asking for a public hearing on their application for the formation of a central school district to embrace the township.

For some time there has been a movement, which appears to have the favor of the State Education Department, to form a central school district to embrace the townships of Woodstock, Olive and Shandaken. This three-town central district contemplates a central district which would include a high school. The Woodstock town plan does not contemplate a high school.

The Woodstock delegation will go to Albany ready to present its plan and oppose the formation of any re-organization under a "master plan" which might dim their chances of forming a town of Woodstock central district.

The Rapp-Coudert Committee was formed four years ago to investigate New York schools and has widened its scope to include other schools and plans. Each year the committee has made reports to the State Commissioner of Education on school matters with recommendations.

Plan to Appear

Speaking for the Woodstock central school district group, Mr.

The collapse came 15 minutes after the fire broke out at 12:10 a. m. Charles Whitecroff, nearby resident, said the explosion "felt like an earthquake" and was followed by "terrible screaming of children."

After the collapse firemen heard frantic cries from the ruins and were able to drag out a number of victims.

Dr. Harry M. Archer, fire department surgeon, said he had crawled into the rubble and had given a hypodermic injection to a woman who clutched the dead body of a young boy.

The Rev. Joseph A. Boyle, fire department chaplain, also went into the ruins. He said he heard a woman calling weakly, "Please get me out of here, I'm all right." Firemen worked toward her.

Many of the more than 200 firemen at the scene formed a human chain, passing bricks, wood, masonry and smashed furniture to the street so rescue crews could dig deeper.

One crew of firemen tunneled with their hands through six feet of wreckage to reach a young girl, still alive. She was given a hypodermic injection.

A fireman wept with relief as he carried to safety a small boy who was still able to smile, though injured.

Rescuers dug into a pile of rubble reaching to the second floor of the tenement, which was virtually sheared in half with one portion flattened and the other wrecked.

The blaze in the unused building, an ice house, was first re-

State Legislature Will Get 15 Proposed Amendments

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 12 (AP)—Fifteen proposed amendments to the state constitution are up for consideration by the 1947 legislature, but only a half-dozen are given more than a slim chance of winning approval.

Assured of passage, in the opinion of legislative leaders, is the $400,000,000 veterans' bonus measure, which has bi-partisan support. It was approved unanimously at the 1946 session.

The legislative showdown on the others, endorsed by either the 1945 or 1946 legislatures, will come at the impending session, which must approve them before they can be voted upon by the people next fall.

The new legislature's task will be to decide which one of several resolutions on the same subject should be approved, if any.

Given the best chance of passage, besides the bonus, are proposals which would:

Increase the terms of state senators from two years to four.

Permit the legislature to raise the $2,500 salary of its members.

Permit absentee voting by service personnel and their families in peace as well as war.

Liberalize procedure for the ouster of judges from office through establishment of a special court empowered to remove them for cause after trial or to retire for physical or mental disability.

Establish a new Supreme Court Judicial District in Long Island's present second district.

Deemed questionable, because the need diminished with the end of the war, is a proposal permitting judges to serve in the armed forces.

Also on the doubtful list, because of anticipated opposition from sportsmen's groups, are three measures to permit construction of specified recreational buildings and ski trails in the forest preserve and enable the legislature to authorize the taking of gold, silver or other metals from forest preserve lands.

Two propositions to change the pay of legislators are up for consideration. One would increase their present annual salary of $2,500 to $3,000. The other, given the best chance of passage, would strike out the $2,500 constitutional limitation and permit the legislature to fix its salary by statute.

Of the 15 suggested constitutional changes, 10 were endorsed by the 1946 legislature and five in 1945. Before an amendment can be submitted to the people, it must be passed by two successive legislatures whose membership has been changed by an intervening election.

He said his recommendations in his state of the union message would call for what he believes to be necessary for the welfare of the United States.

This message will embrace his viewpoint, he said, adding that members of Congress were entitled to have theirs.

He refused to be drawn into a discussion of the administration's future policy toward John L. Lewis, chief of the United Mine Workers, against whom the government is waging a court fight.

Mr. Truman told questioners the Lewis matter was in the courts and he would have nothing to say

Two Men Admit Jewel, Cash Thefts

Selection of Jury Is Begun at Monticello for Third Man

Monticello, N. Y., Dec. 12 (AP)—Two men pleaded guilty today at the opening of their trial on charges of first degree grand larceny in the theft of two safes containing an estimated $50,000 in cash and jewels from the Congress Hotel at Sackett Lake, last July.

Selection of a jury was begun for the trial of the third man, Walter Gulla, 31, on charges of grand larceny and possession of burglar tools. The two who pleaded guilty before Sullivan County Judge George L. Cooke were George Gulla, 23, brother of Walter, and Frank Leotta, 25. All three are from New York city.

Americans Mark Their First Yule Season in Japan

By TOM LAMBERT
AP Newsfeatures

Tokyo—This land of lotus blossoms, in which Santa Claus is a comparative stranger, will be a land of Christmas observances, festivals, Christmas trees and occidental celebrations as hundreds of Americans mark their first Yule season in Japan.

This is the second Christmas in this country for Allied occupation forces, but the first for hundreds of wives and children who began streaming out here immediately after the army cleared their way—and still are arriving.

Dependents are spread from Hokkaido on the north, to Kyushu, the southernmost island; from bases along Japan's Pacific shoreline to camps fronting on the Japan sea.

Many are assured of snow for the "White Christmas" touch, but Hokkaidoans will have most. Snow on that island sometimes engulfs the houses.

Here in Tokyo there will be special midnight Masses, Christmas parties and fir trees sparkling with decorations.

The Red Cross, checking by telephone more than 150 army installations throughout Japan, reports Christmas and holiday plans being drafted—with emphasis on parties, religious observances, whopping big meals of turkey and trimmings, and many special gatherings sponsored by soldiers who will play St. Nick for Japanese children.

Handel's "Messiah" will be presented by joint American-Japanese choruses in many cities in which Americans are living. In Yokohama a 500-voice group will render the familiar Yuletide favorite.

Elsewhere, soldier groups are planning Christmas eve renditions of old carols.

FRONT ROYAL UP FRONT

Front Royal, Va., is going to be better known than it has been. American University of Washington, D. C., has selected it as the typical American town, and will give it the first community survey ever made in the United States. Like some other American towns, Front Royal has in the last five years doubled its 1940 population of 3,800. A new chemical plant and the influx of tourists along the Skyline Drive have caused a familiar housing shortage and transformed the life of the community. The survey will make a house-to-house canvass, and find out how best Front Royal may readjust itself.

In 1929 Robert S. and Helen Lynd, two trained sociologists, took Muncie, Ind., and described its life under the name of Middletown. Eight years later came a second volume, "Middletown in Transition." Muncie did not particularly like what the two books said about it, and Front Royal may not care in all respects for the survey. Still, medicine may taste bad and yet be good for us. This may be the case with the Front Royal survey.

ROLL OF HONOR

If President Truman should be fated to serve only one term, he has the consolation of being in distinguished company. The Presidents who failed to secure a second term are the two Adamses, John and John Quincy, Martin Van Buren, John Tyler, James K. Polk, Millard Fillmore, Franklin Pierce, James Buchanan, Andrew Johnson, Rutherford B. Hayes, Chester A. Arthur, Benjamin Harrison, William Howard Taft and Herbert Hoover.

Of these Polk, Buchanan and Hayes retired voluntarily. While the rest include a few second-rate men, the list as a whole is one of the most eminent in American history. Among its members it is an honor to be included.

"Work, for the night is coming," says the old hymn. And a fellow sort o' wonders if there will be any strikes over there.

WHAT IS ESSENTIAL?

If the new Congress forbids or severely limits strikes in public utilities and essential industries, it must settle what is an essential industry. Coal is, and steel. What else?

Is the automobile industry essential to the point that strikes should be forbidden? Many vital parts of automobiles are built by other companies and sold to the big car manufacturers. Is the automobile part business essential? Farming is essential to the national welfare, but is agricultural machinery an essential industry?

Lawmakers who pass on these questions will have an interesting time.

We don't like to be inquisitive, but what happened to all those houses the government was going to build?

GOT ANY STAMPS?

The postage stamps that are licked at this time of the year offer interesting possibilities for arithmetical computation. Very likely some of the school kids would be willing to take the matter in hand and enlighten the world on this score. The Postoffice Department should know something about it, but is probably too busy on other matters to give the topic the attention it merits.

Suffice it to say that this is the most stamp-licking nation in the world, and the licked stamps disposed of in the last couple of weeks before Christmas would almost reach from here to the outer barriers of Judgment Day.

Even Santa Claus is reported as annoyed by having to cut down his fuel supply to save coal.

COAL STRIKE NO PROBLEM

With the country at the moment coal conscious, it is interesting to realize that the miners' strike had no terrors for a large proportion of small town and farm citizens. Wood is the fuel used in 21 per cent of the nation's small town homes and 70 per cent of the farm homes, according to the National Research Bureau. Kerosene, practically unknown in urban homes, is the cooking fuel in 25 per cent of small town and rural areas. Oil companies are working hard to sell equipment and service that will keep it there.

It's good to know that a coal strike cannot play havoc with everybody.

With the strike having cut down his supplies, even the coal man will not wish for a cold winter.

IN THE MATTER OF FRANCO

I don't like big shots who rise to power by force, by the suppression of other people's liberties. And I dislike murder no matter who commits it. There can be no law that applies to one man and not to another. If Franco is wicked, everybody that has achieved power by force, revolution, civil war, and the suppression of opposition is wicked. What has Franco done that Stalin and Tito have not done? I do not condone Franco, but how can Stalin and Tito be his judges? How can those whose hands are red with the blood of their own countrymen be capable of sitting in judgment of anybody?

When I was working as a newspaperman in Russia in 1917-18, I knew and saw a great many enthusiastic, energetic, brilliant young men, some of whom had lived in Western countries and even in the United States, who thought and felt that they were creating a new world. Some of them believed in democracy; some in socialism. Most of them were Marxists. All of them, but one, are dead. All but three were murdered. The most remarkable among them, Leon Trotzky, had his brains bashed in while he was in exile in Mexico. Others were tortured until, drugged by fear and pain and moral bankruptcy, they denounced themselves. And the one who remains, Stalin, is the master by murder and force of a sixth of the Earth. And he is critical of Franco. He dares to demand that this country break off relations with Franco.

If there is to be a rule, let it apply universally. What is the objection to Franco?

1. He is a Fascist. Well, what is a Fascist? What exactly do we mean by that term? What is the definition? Fascism is a system of government in which the means of production and distribution are controlled by the government, which asserts for itself power over every individual in every phase of his personal life in the interest of the state from the cradle to the grave.

Does that not apply to Russia more than to Spain? Does that not apply to Yugoslavia more than to Spain? Does that not apply to Rumania, to Bulgaria, to the Ukraine more than to Spain?

And if the rule applies to one country, does it not apply to another? Must Spain drive out Franco while all the world bows to Stalin?

2. Or let us say that we object to Franco because he was not elected—he is not the choice of the Spanish people at a free and unfettered election.

Has a free and unfettered election ever been held in Russia? There, only one name appears on the ballot. There is no opposition—it would mean death. Has there been a free and unfettered election in Yugoslavia? Is the government of Rumania one of the people's choice? And is it possible to suggest that the government that is to be elected next month in Poland will represent the fre and unfettered choice of the people when the opposition has already been removed from the voting lists?

If opposition to Franco must be stimulated because there has been no free and unfettered election, how can we be in intimate association with others whose power represents only seizure and force and bloodshed?

3. Or do we object to Franco because he was intimate with Hitler?

And did not Stalin for 21 months permit his ally, Hitler to conquer most of Europe? And was it not because of the Hitler-Stalin Alliance that Hitler was free to smash into Poland, and did not the Molotov-Ribbentrop Protocol divide Europe as two pirates might their loot?

It is not that Franco is virtuous, but that our own moral attitudes are so twisted. We paint one man a Devil and put a halo on Satan. We make one rule for our friends; another for our friends' enemies. Why not simply say that Stalin wants Franco out of the way and that it is impossible to displease Stalin? That would be closer to the truth, but would it be nice?

APPENDICITIS

When the figures show that deaths from appendicitis are rare it would be expected that physicians and surgeons would rest on their oars, but such is not the case. The thought now is why should there be any deaths from appendicitis and research physicians and surgeons are giving the thought careful and searching investigation.

In an attempt to gather all possible information about appendicitis — cause, diagnosis, operation and care after operation — Dr. Ralph L. Gorrell, Editor, Clinical Medicine, collected information obtained by the medical staff of this medical journal from various sources and through the health unit at Trinidad, Colorado.

"Comments were obtained from teaching surgeons in all parts of the country regarding common errors, diagnosis and proper treatment of appendicitis."

A few of the errors or mistakes, pointers, suggestions in diagnosis and treatment are worth noting by physicians and layment.

1. An increase in white blood corpuscles — disease fighters — while proving some inflammation or infection present, does not necessarily mean that it is appendicitis causing the increase.

2. There is no medical treatment for appendicitis. If there is any delayed treatment it is not for appendicitis — but because appendix has already infected the pertoneum — peritonitis.

3. The most important sign or pointer is tenderness and muscle spasm — tightness of abdomen — over the appendix.

4. If pressure is made in the "left" lower side of abdomen which causes pain in the right lower abdomen (appendix region) the patient almost certainly has appendicitis.

Among the errors or mistakes in managing a case of appendicitis are the following:

Delay in operating upon patients in whom acute appendicitis is a possibility, or delay in seeking consultation with a surgeon in these cases.

Giving purgatives or enemas too early in cases of obscure abdominal pain.

Application of ice bags to appendix region to allay the pain.

Failure to operate when a mass is felt in right lower abdomen in patients in pain less than 72 hours.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

New York, Dec. 12 (AP)—A voice from the clover-laden air along the banks of the Wabash lifts itself above the monoxide-poisoned clamor of Manhattan to deny that the old-fashioned country general store has moved to town.

Answering a recent lament in this column that city slickers had stolen the cheese-and cracker forum of the rural folk and turned it into a Neon-lighted saloon, Ernest A. Gady, proprietor of Gady's General store at Rainsville, Ind., wrote this refreshing rebuttal:

"The old country store is still present in a big way, plus its old-fashioned Republican and its die-hard Democrat, both going strong with the pot-bellied stove. Nobody is dreaming of a combined draft!

"Election prophecies, weather forecasts and crop estimates still rate tops above John L. Lewis, Joe Louis and football. The snuff box still hangs on the wall, and the spittin' terbaccer outsells the Camel which created so many pedestrians.

"Ketchup, cheese bubbles and Castor oil run a close second to bologna, Bull Durham and buttermilk in gross sales.

Buys Bad Ones Too

"A sign proclams that the grocer is paying thirty-four cents a dozen for good eggs and fourteen cents for bad ones. Another sign announces that the political views expressed here do not necessarily reflect the opinions of the storekeeper.

"The 'not responsible for accidents' notice is partly hidden by the thrilling news of a coming box-supper at the schoolhouse across the street, and schoolhouse is not spelled 'schule hous' either. When the rural mail comes in half an hour ahead of schedule all hands rush out and chorus, 'what made yuh so late? Have a flat tire?'

Gady said that international affairs get a quick brush-off in the store debates.

"'Molotov must be a contrary old coot and Truman gits his dander up too quick' dispose of all the heavy politics," he wrote. "The township trustee race is far ahead of the Olmpic games in the country store."

No Illusions About Boom

Th proprietor of Rainsville's leading emporum has a comfortable life with a pleasant brook full of bass within strolling distance. But he has no illusions about a business boom.

"Here in Rainsville one customer is a rush, two is a riot and three calls for prospective military rule," he said.

"This town is as old as Chicago; founded in 1833. It contains about forty people and has a church and school. There never was a railroad or bus line through it nor any paved road.

"At one time it had twelve places where you could buy a drink [illegible]. None here now, however. There was also a large flour mill, water-powered, seventy-five years ago and a sawmill and a few trading posts. This was on the old Harrison Trail and was Indian territory.

"Across the street from the store is the old-time opera house where the itinerant patent medicine shows played to capacity, giving way on Saturday nights to the old country dance crowd with the hill-billy band."

Doesn't Go for Bargains

Gady doesn't do well on bargain sales. He said that when he offers customer Jim Wilson two cans of beans for the price of one "Jim counters with the sound logic that if one can is undesirable, two would be almost abhorrent."

The general store is somewhat in need of a new coat of paint.

"We have the paint," Gady acknowledged. "In fact we've had the paint for five years. But you know how it is to get anything done, etc. In fact, you know now why Chicago got all the business."

So far the township fathers have made no effort to get the United Nations on the may by inviting it to settle down in the heart of Rainsville.

"Animated and enthusiastic individuals are encouraged to settle elsewhere," said Gady, who has this sign penciled on one counter over the nose salve:

"Public opinion forces us to operate on fast time. Wonder if it will work?"

Russian Newspapers Are Reported Saying Americans Are Losing Confidence in U.S. System of Government

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 12 — Russian newspapers are saying that because the American people are harassed by economic disturbances we are beginning to lose confidence in our system of government.

This is but another way of arguing that private enterprise in America is failing and Communism is better.

The truth is that the American people are not looking favorably on other systems of government but are plainly worried about the working of the system of voluntary control of their own affairs.

For the free enterprise system or for representative government to function successfully, it is essential that all groups work together and that no group shall put its selfish interest beyond any other.

Last week many people in America were really worried about their system of government. They wondered if it was too weak to get them coal this winter. Naturally a citizen who thinks his government is powerless to get fuel for his home is likely to look at other systems.

Totalitarianism such as existed in Germany and Italy and now exists in Russia doesn't have any worry about strikes. John L. Lewis couldn't tie up the coal supply of Russia, for they don't allow strikes or strike leaders in the Communist regime. They don't like the A.F.L., and they tolerate the C.I.O. in international relationship only because the Russians regard the C.I.O. as a convenient instrument for the spread of Communist propaganda in America. This isn't true, of course, but the Russians think it is, and show their favoritism for the C.I.O. as contrasted with the A.F.L.

So far, however, as producing economic chaos in America and hastening the day when a tired and harassed people may thoughtlessly embrace totalitarian measures, the leaders of the C.I.O. and the A.F.L. are on the same side of the street. They both supported Lewis last week and denounced the American government for daring to issue a restraining order even temporarily to bring about a resumption of coal mining.

The labor leaders of America have also forced on the American people a cycle of price inflation which they no ware preparing to intensify. They are issuing figures about alleged profits as propaganda to confuse the people about the real issues. Everyone who studies the history of inflation knows that rising costs mean rising prices and that as each factor is allowed to exert its maximum influence a vicious circle is created which cannot be broken until there is some sense of self-restraint.

The job of the hour is not to rock the economic boat further with more demands for increased wages and with more labor strife. The labor leaders imagine the people as a whole are not intelligent enough to understand what is happening. These labor leaders forget that the Gallup poll shows that 51 per cent of the manual labor workers voted the Republican ticket as a protest in the congressional elections last month. The rank and file understand that an economy which insists on getting more wages for less work will wind up in a crash landing that will mean widespread unemployment.

Present-day labor leaders are not only shortsighted but selfish to the extreme. They think they can stay in power and yet mislead the rank and file. Had the coal strike gone a week longer, the revolt in the ranks of the miners would have opened the eyes of the American people to the fact that the average worker in the coal fields knew he was being misled by so-called labor leaders.

It does not require any economic training or expertness to discover that on the volume of business done in wartime, when killing people was the principal occupation of a nation, there could be high wage earnings but that when war contracts were cancelled and the volume of business done turned materially downward, it was impossible to pay the same wage rates. Yet the so-called labor economists now are calling for wartime wages out of a peacetime volume of business and are not promising any corresponding increase in output per man to compensate for the wage increases already given.

Since the coal strike was settled, a wave of hope had swept the country that the industrial picture might brighten and that the economic depression so often predicted would not materialize. But the labor leaders, who seem bent on forcing that depression to happen, have begun again to ask for wage increases. This means economic suicide for the country. Lots of John L. Lewises are now rising to threaten the nation's economy. The new congress will find an indignant public opinion demanding that labor monopolies be ended. For without such monopolies, there could not be big unions to break up the American economy.

CURRENT COMMUNIST TRENDS

Top flight Communists today, disappointed by the November election, hope to drive law enforcement bodies, including federal troops and state guards, into the position of having to shoot or otherwise violently handle strikers or goons.

Bloodshed at the hands of the Army or Police would give the left-wing press a new martyr cry. Recent American history has shown that the Left has been able to count on strong support, in such a situation from many a radio commentator and editor and from a public which often is deceived as to who is the underdog.

About a year ago J. Edgar Hoover, head of the F.B.I., called public attention to the fact that American Communists had taken up their fight against police where they had left off during the war. That fight now is being intensified. You are supposed to begin thinking of all police as Fascists and tools of "capitalists." You run across this refrain again and again if you read the Red press.

The Communist Daily People's World recently played inflammatory pictures against the cops on page one, three days out of four. One picture was a honey as inflammatory matter goes; it showed a fine looking, big copper mounted on a fiery steed with a club in his hand, riding in the direction of a cringing crowd. This was in a Camden, N. J., strike. The cutline accused the officer of attacking strikers and said "Mounted Policeman Rides Into Pickets."

The editor of the Communist paper added this terroristic inspiration, "Guild spokesmen charged police had unpacked machine guns in the basement of Camden's city hall for possible use against strikers."

Another picture, blown up big on page one, showed officers carrying a man and, while there was no evidence of violence or abuse, the cutline filled in, "Dragged and manhandled by these uniformed 'defenders of the law,' a picket 'gets the business at the strike-bound Allis-Chalmers plant at Milwaukee.'

The Communist press has, of course, a very special interest in the Allis-Chalmers strike. Documents recently gathered by investigators, who furnished me a copy, show the union local (No. 248, U.A.W., C.I.O.) forcing this strike on resisting employes to be heavily dominated by Communist and pro-Communist leaders. Scores of No. 248's officials and committeemen signed nomination papers to get a known Communist candidate on an election ballot. Many of them have been active in other Red groups.

While the Oakland, Calif., city-wide strike probably was not Communist inspired, the Reds went hysterical in support of it and seized on the anti-police motif. That strike, in fact, was called largely as a protest against police protecting the non-union Veterans Trucking Service in delivering merchandise to a struck firm.

Even the pro-union Wagner Act makes it clear that an employer has the right to continue to do business despite a strike and to hire help to replace strikers, if he can. This Act therefore does not in any way relieve law enforcement bodies from the duty to protect non-union citizens and legitimate business. But the leftist and labor press have convinced millions of Americans that police are wrong when they act to guarantee civil rights which are challenged by a union.

Apparently the unions in Oakland won a victory over the mayor and chief of police, who finally agreed not to use police again to protect a struck firm.

Thus, a labor union, representing only its own group, has whipped the people's government.

This is victory for Karl Marx over American law enforcement bodies no matter how loudly the union leaders in Oakland may curse Communism itself. The difference in rule by an anti-Communist and a pro-Communist union is only a matter of jurisdiction.

These songs are sung by increasing thousands of American children. Some reports put the number of youngsters enrolled in the Pioneers—a movement to oppose and outstripe the Boy Scouts—at 500,000.

It is long past time for the government to disband the Pioneers.

It is long past time for a public awakening to the efforts of the many Communist groups and leaders to intimidate and discredit our police forces.

The schedule for the the Department of Public Welfare salaries was reported to be $92,225.29 and of this approximately 80 per cent is reimbursed by the State.

Because of the added work and responsibility of the County Commissioner of Public Welfare since the inclusion of the City of Kingston in the countywide setup the Board voted to increase the salary of the commissioner from its present $3,000 figure to $5,000 on January 1, 1948. The salary cannot be increased during the present tenure under the law.

A resolution formerly adopted by the Board making an appropriation of $41,000 for the new County Health District was rescinded since under the law an appropriation for the entire cost of the work must be adopted. The Board had previously appropriated only the estimated cost of the work to the county after state aid had been received. However the Board Wednesday evening appropriated the sum of $132,000 but the resolution called for as assessment and levy of but $41,000 against the county.

Since the Tuberculosis Hospital will come under the jurisdiction of the County Health Commissioners after January 1, 1947, the Board of Managers of the Tuberculosis Hospital which has been responsible for its operation in the past, was dissolved. The resolution dissolving the Board of Managers as of January 1, next, called attention to the past services of this board and highly commended the members of the Board for their services.

A communication was received from the City Clerk of Kingston with a copy of the resolution passed by the Common Council on December 4, under which the city offers to the county land on Broadway, adjacent to the City laboratory, for use in erecting a Tumor Clinic to be operated under the direction of the County Board of Health.

By resolution four miles of highway in the towns of Marlborough and Plattekill, 2½ miles in Marlborough and 1½ in Plattekill, were added to the county road map for construction. The road leads westerly from Marlborough village through town of Plattekill to the Orange county line.

Allotment of $15,000 to County Road-Project No. 78, Road No. 123 in Marbletown, was found to have been in error and the fund was transferred by resolution to Road No. 95 in the town, the High Falls-Mohonk road, known as the Mountain Rest road.

Plans for reconstruction of State Highway from Ellenville to Wurtsboro, Part II-B, were received from the State Department and the board approved the plans. About a mile of the highway will be re-aligned over another alignment.

A report was also made by the Committee on Tax Arrears. Some 95 parcels of land which had been taken over by the county at tax sales have been disposed of for the sum of $1,795 and placed back on the tax rolls. The committee recommended approval of the sale and issuance of deeds by the county to the purchasers. Approved. The money received from these sales will be credited to returned tax funds of the towns.

A report was received from the Committee on Town and County Accounts, relative to returned water taxes. The following amounts were reported and will be assessed at 7% against the property on which water rent is due: Highland Water District $1,111.68. Marlborough District $90.20. Phoenicia Water District $309.49. Wallkill Water District $23.10. Approved.

Returned school tax in the amount of $106,838.45 was reported. Amount to be re-assessed is $111,253.68 with 7% added and the amount on the rolls of towns is $111,253.68.

The board adjourned to meet on December 26 at 5 o'clock.

Arrested for Driving With 1947 License Plates

John Fischer of Lake Hill was arrested this morning on Broadway by Officers E. J. Leonard and Gerald Every on a charge of driving a car with improper license plates.

Fischer, it appears, had discarded his 1946 plates, which are good till February 1 and had put on new 1947 plates. When arrested he protested that he had "bought the plates and paid for them and was entitled to use them." He also told the officers that he knew of four other persons in his neighborhood who had put the new plates on their cars.

Fischer was brought to police headquarters where he furnished bail for appearance at 9 o'clock Friday morning in city court. He also was informed that while the 1947 license plates are being issued now, they are not to be used until January 1.

The average altitude of the 48 United States is about 2,500 feet above sea level.

'Twas the night before Christmas,
And all through the house
There were presents galore for
My children and spouse.

When back in my head
There arose such a clatter,
I cudgeled my brains
To find what was the matter.

Then I knew in a twinkling,
And said in despair,
"I've forgotten myself . . . and I'VE NOTHING TO WEAR!"

Landlords Advised About Registration Of Living Quarters

Landlords now operating under the rent regulation governing hotels, rooming houses and motor courts in the Poughkeepsie and Rockland defense rental areas, who have not obtained forms for the supplemental registration of their establishments, should do so soon as the deadline for filing the completed forms is December 31, 1946, Charles C. Hoag, area rent director said today.

All landlords, who rent rooms in a hotel, rooming or boarding house, dormitory, residence club, motor court, tourist home, tourist court cabin and those who rent space in an auto camp or trailer camp, are required to file the supplemental data and may get the proper form at the local rent office 13 Washington street, Poughkeepsie.

"After getting the forms, landlords should be careful to fill in all the information called for on the form which applies to their establishment," Mr. Hoag said. "The forms are not difficult to fill out if the instructions supplied with the forms are followed. However, we will gladly assist any landlord who has any questions about completing the form properly.

"It is important, of course, that they write plainly and sign the form in the lower right hand corner of the initial page. Incomplete, unreadable and unsigned forms will be returned for proper completion.

"Both copies of the form must be filled in and returned to this office, the address of which is stamped at the top of the first page. Landlords need not retain an extra copy because one copy of the registration statement will be returned to them after their establishment has been classified and the classification indicated in the upper right hand corner."

Brazil May Break Old Tie

Rio De Janeiro (AP)—Brazilians soon may speak "Brazilian." An amendment proposed for the new constitution, which is expected to be promulgated in early September, would provide that all references to the national language read "the Brazilian language" instead of "the Portuguese language." The amendment has the signatures of 240 of the 328 members of the assembly.

Sugar Saving Raisin Sauce

A slice of ordinary pound cake becomes a taste treat, masked in a raisin sauce made by combining ½ cup honey, 3 tablespoons margarine or butter, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, 1 cup cold water, ¾ cup seedless raisins, 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Add to this a mixture of ½ cup sugar, 1½ tablespoons cornstarch, dash salt. Cook, stirring constantly, for 4 or 5 minutes. Serve warm over plain cake, rice pudding, bread or other puddings. Yield: 2 cups.

If your desserts have been in the doldrums, here's a cheering piece of news: California's recent raisin crop was on a handsome scale; predictions are that raisins will be plentiful this winter. And high time, too, what with many designed-for-dessert ingredients scarce or long since vanished from the market.

With raisins back the dessert course takes on a sparkling air once more. For raisins supply a sunny sort of flavor, a sweetness, a perfumed piquancy that gives desserts new charm. Source of all this magic is the sugar locked in every raisin heart. This is a natural fruit sugar, which not only eagerly imparts its sweetness to every dish it graces, but has re-fueling value also. For fruit sugar is a notably fast energy producer.

Every kind of raisin is suited to desserts. But muscats and Thompson seedless are specially desirable for this purpose. The muscat is an out-sized raisin—tender textured, seeded, famed for its concentrated sweetness, its rare bouquet, its almost flower-like flavor. Thompson seedless are a smaller variety, a little less sweetish to the tongue than muscats, but with a bit more piquancy, more ping!—Jean Merritt

Basketball 55 Years Old Today; 4 Originals Alive

Springfield, Mass., Dec. 12 (AP)—Basketball is 55 years old today, and President Paul M. Limbert of Springfield College—where the game was invented—said four men on the original team are still alive.

He listed them as: L. W. Archibald, Warren, Pa.; E. S. Libbey, Redlands, Calif.; W. R. Chase, New Bedford, Mass., and the Rev. F. G. MacDonald, Merigonish, Nova Scotia.

Dr. Limbert said the game was originated by Dr. James Naismith, an instructor at the college at the time, to serve as a substitute for the mass calisthenics of the day which had fallen into disfavor.

In New York tonight, Dr. Limbert added, Archibald will be introduced at the L.I.U.-Oklahoma A. & M. game at Madison Square Garden. He will be presented a print of the first full-length film of present-day basketball methods for the archives of Springfield College.

The first teams to test Dr. Naismith's sports formula consisted of nine men each.

Sampson Withdrawal Is Below Normal for Freshmen

Sampson, N. Y., Dec. 12 (AP)—The rate of student withdrawals from state-sponsored Sampson College is "far below normal" for university freshmen classes, says the college registrar.

Noting that Assemblyman Ilson C. Van Duzer, Orange County Republican, last week asked Governor Dewey to investigate conditions at the college, Edward J. Sobel said last night that 167 students, or about six per cent of the 2,825 accepted for enrollment, had withdrawn. Sobel said that colleges normally expected a shrinkage of 15 per cent in the freshman class.

Van Duzer said that he understood many students were leaving the college, one of three G.I. emergency institutions set up by the state, because of inadequate housing, lack of proper heating and study hall facilities at the former navy training center.

Sobel said that student housing "still can't be classed as excellent," but added that the majority of students who withdrew had given other reasons for leaving.

He said many had received notice that they would be accepted in January by established colleges to which they previously had applied. He listed also home finances, non-veterans joining the armed services, recurring physical ailments resulting from the war and transfers to technical schools.

Many withdrew to "brush up" on deficiencies in high school subjects, he added.

Hang On!

Success is failure turned inside out.
The silver tint of the clouds of doubt,
And you never can tell how close you are,
It may be near when it seems afar;
So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit,
It's when things seem worst that you must not quit.

Ted—My feet burn like the dickens. Do you think a mustard bath would help?

Ned—Sure! There's nothing better than mustard for hot dogs.

A Winston-Salem, N. C., man returning home from the hospital after being bitten by a neighbor's dog was bitten in the same leg by the same dog.

Husband—That fellow was an impudent fraud. How did he manage to wheedle money out of you?

Wife—Oh, John, he told me such a sad tale—it was pitiful, about his poor wife who was a widow with six little children.

Then there was the termite with a mouthful of plywood who called to the others: "Look, kids—layer cake!"

Applicant—I used to work from dark to dawn in a lingerie shop. I was a nightie watchman.

One Drunk (to another on the sidewalk)—I can't help ya up, but I'll lie down with ya.

A man at the front received a nagging letter from his wife and wrote in reply:

"Please don't write me any more nagging letters. Let me enjoy this war in peace."

One night a Negro was walking along Forty-Second Street in New York, from a terminal to a hotel, carrying a heavy suitcase and a heavier valise. Suddenly a hand took hold of the valise and a pleasant voice said: "Pretty heavy, brother! Suppose you let me take one. I am going your way."

The Negro resisted, but finally allowed the young white man to assist him in carrying his burden, and for several blocks they walked along chatting like old cronies. "And that," said Booker T. Washington years later, "was the first time I ever met Theodore Roosevelt."

Fond Memories

I rose and offered her my seat;
I could not let her stand.
She made me think of Mother,
With that strap gripped in her hand.

A husband glanced over his grocery bill, and this item attracted his attention:

Bot Tom Cat 28c

Man (excitedly)—Look here? What have you been feeding me? Here it says you bought one Tom Cat.

Wife (laughing)—Oh, don't worry, dear. That's the grocer's abbreviation for a bottle of tomato catsup.

Movies Boom Business

Wyandotte, Ky. (AP)—Free movies ended a business slump at this village's general store. J. T. Kennedy got the idea when summer trade fell off. He rigged up an outdoor movie and showed free pictures once a week. Crowds came from throughout this blue grass section. Now Kennedy has converted his barn into a theater. Each Wednesday night movies are shown. (P.S. Wyandotte's population is listed as 12 in the Rand-McNally atlas for 1946.)

Furs Return As Hats

It is hard to get an Australian fur felt hat in Sydney, because practically all rabbit skins go to America for fur coats and hats, Dominion residents say. One observer remarks: "Shortly, the Yanks will send us back a few hats made in the U.S.A. from good Australian rabbit skins and given fashionable names, and some fur coats with fancy names, for the women."

Orchids to Indiana

Honolulu (AP)—A Hoosier girl wore at her graduation an expensive lei flown from the Hawaiian Islands. Made of 12 matched white cattleya orchids, it was sent by a friend to Mary Longshore of Brazil, Ind. Here where the orchids are sold in groceries for 15 cents each, it cost $126. Florists estimated it would have cost $500 in the United States.

The World Today

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Great Britain's trouble with Albania over the mining of Corfu channel, with resultant heavy damage to two British destroyers and the loss of 44 lives, is strangely of a pattern with the U. S.-Yugoslav row over the shooting down of American planes.

In each case Russian satellite governments have taken violent, almost hysterical action (if the British charge is true) in the guise of defending their sovereignty. Age-old principles involving the protection of peacetime travelers have been thrown out the window in inexplicable fashion.

If it is true that Albania deliberately and secretly mined a traditionally free channel. Nobody will know what to expect next. If the mining was done for fear of what passing British ships might observe ashore, the implications would be a cause for even greater anxiety than the act itself.

In one respect the Albanian incident, aside from the greater loss of life, is of greater significance than the Tito affair, for Russian control in Albania is much more direct than in Yugoslavia.

In Yugoslavia there is a Communist-dominated government, conducted by Moscow-trained operatives, but one which operates with a certain degree of autonomy. Tito, instead of being merely an executive of Moscow's orders, is more of a collaborationist. He follows the line to which he is well-trained, to be sure, but up to the point where he might cross the Kremlin he is his own man. Although he had Russian precedent for getting tough with American planes which flew over prescribed areas, the trouble he got into with us was essentially his own.

Reds in Key Positions

In Albania, on the other hand, reliable reports have it that Russians actually occupy the key positions. After last year's so-called elections the United States and Britain withheld recognition of the government. The Russians, however, not only jumped aboard the Hoxha bandwagon, but apparently took over the reins. Russian Minister Dimitri Tchuvakin arrived last January with a staff of experts which one source counted at 400, and the number has been reported greatly augmented since. There have been additional reports of whole Russian army units and hundreds of officers forming the cadres of the new Albanian army, which is reported to total some 100,000 men out of a total population of 1,000,000.

After the Axis surrender and prior to the advent of the Hoxha government, Albanians remembered the days when the United States and Britain parachuted men and supplies into their Axis-occupied country. American missions reported their situation in the country up to November, 1945, as "tolerable." But since then the anti-western campaign has been growing apace, resulting in withdrawal of American representatives from the country.

For a time there was a general hope that the Corfu mines would turn out to be war left-overs, and the explosions accidental. In the face of the British evidence and in the absence of any clearcut Albanian denial, this hope has faded.

Japanese Princes Renounce Their Rights

Tokyo, Dec. 12 (AP)—Eleven imperial princes today decided, at a formal and rare family council at which Emperor Hirohito presided, to renounce their imperial rights and to restrict Japan's royalty to the emperor, his three brothers and their families.

Actually, the princes will be making only a gesture. They have little to renounce. At least three have sold their prize villas to meet family expenses. All have been placed on greatly reduced income which might be further curtailed by the Diet. Politically, they have been shorn of power and the Diet is considering a proposal to reduce them to private citizens.

Nevertheless, the decision was drastic. Mass renunciation undoubtedly will produce strong repercussions among the Japanese people, who generally regard royalty—including the non-royal princes—with awe.

Don't scrub or rub clothes too vigorously, else you will wear holes in the garment.

Jury Shows How It Feels About Jimmy

Chicago, Dec. 12 (AP)—A Municipal Court jury of six women and six men was unable to agree in a case involving the paternity of a two-year-old boy named Jimmy, but there was complete agreement on how the jurors felt about the little boy.

The jurors told Judge Jay A. Schiller they could not reach a decision on the suit brought by Jimmy's 22-year-old unwed mother against a 39-year-old married man whom she charged with being Jimmy's father.

But on the issue of Jimmy himself, the jurors told the court they had been captivated by his charm and they wanted to help him. They decided to contribute their jury fees of $60 to him. The judge and Prosecutor John Henrick also made contributions.

Judge Schiller dismissed the charges after the alleged father had agreed voluntarily to pay the mother $700.

The jurors said they planned to give Jimmy a Christmas party on his second birthday, Dec. 23.

Turkey Cutlets

Steaks cut from ½ to 1 inch thick from the breast of a large young turkey can be cooked on top of the stove. Before cooking, season with salt and pepper, and roll in flour or dip in egg and crumbs. Brown in about ½ inch fat, cover, and steam until tender. Or brown in ¼ inch fat, then add 1 or 2 tablespoons of water, before covering and steaming. Cooking will take about 30 to 45 minutes, depending on the thickness of the steaks. Drain steaks on absorbent paper and serve with cream gravy.

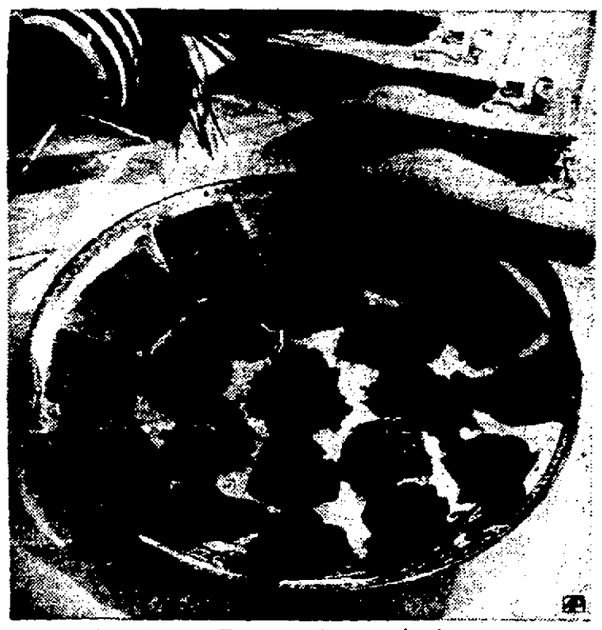
Christmas Sweetmeats



MOLASSES CANDY... Easy on the sugar bowl ...

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

There must be candies for Christmas, but in this year of 1946 most of us are so short of sugar that we find it impossible to figure out any way to make our usual holiday sweetmeats.

Molasses and corn syrup both come to the rescue, so that you and your young and your friends (if you're good enough to make some for them) may all have candy for Christmas. For two of the following receipes a little bit of sugar is needed, but the third is entirely sugarless—and they're all good. Try and see!

Molasses Walnut Squares

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup New Orleans molasses
1/3 cup sugar
½ cup walnut meats
Few grains salt

Melt the butter or margarine in a saucepan. Add the molasses and sugar. Stir until boiling starts and again as mixture begins to get thick. Boil to 250 degrees or until a drop in cold water forms a hard ball. Add walnut meats springled lightly with salt. Pour into a well-buttered pan, cool slightly and mark in small squares.

Molasses Coconaut Chews

½ cup corn syrup
½ cup molasses
1 tablespoon vinegar
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cups shredded cocoanut

Combine syrup, molasses, vinegar and butter or margarine. Place over low flame and stir until mixture boils. Continue boiling to 240 degrees or until a little dropped in cold water becomes brittle. Remove from fire and add cocoanut. Drop from two forks on greased surface. This makes 28 chews.

Raisin Crunch

1 cup seedless raisins
½ cup molasses
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup shortening
¼ cup water
¾ teaspoon salt

"Plump" the raisins by covering with boiling water and allowing them to stand a very few minutes. Drain and dry the raisins. Boil together molasses, sugar, shortening and water until it reaches the hard crack stage (290 degrees) when tested in cold water. Stir constantly to prevent burning. Remove from fire, add salt and raisins and pour into a buttered pan. When cold break into pieces.

Sally? She's OK

Baltimore, (AP) — Four-year-old Sally Moment calls herself the "Lightning Girl." Her father, Goucher College Biology Prof. G. B. Moment, reported that lightning struck the girl's room, opened a large hole in the wall, knocked the plaster off the walls and ceiling, melted the tips of a package of needles and broke two legs off Sally's crib. Sally went right on sleeping.

Australia in Jam

Melbourne (AP)—The U. S. shortage of tinplate may delay for months the canning of the bulk of Australian jam and meat this season. Melbourne can makers have warned that if supplies of tinplate do not improve, the food processing industry will face a crisis. The average quarterly allotment of tinplate from the U. S., Australia's biggest supplier, was said to have dropped from 55,000 to 27,000 tons.

'Noble Experiment' Gives No Swoons, No Screams

New York, Dec. 12 (AP)—"The Voice" dripped honey. The audience listened quietly. Then "The Voice" sang some more.

No screams, no squeals, no swoons—the "noble experiment" was underway.

The scene was Frank Sinatra's broadcast last night, the first at which no person under 21 was permitted to attend. Before imposing the age bar, Sinatra's press agents had tried broadcasts without audiences, because the bobby-soxers' screaming had interrupted Sinatra's most dulcet tones.

Doormen didn't actually demand birth certificates, and as a result some of the patrons wobbled uncertainly on high heels as they walked into the studio dressed in mother's fur coat.

An 18-year-old redhead who couldn't get in—"They know me too well"—thought it wasn't fair because the screaming, she said, was done by "the girls who don't see him very often and don't know he doesn't like it."

Inside the theatre the audience hung on every syllable and laughed with Frankie almost as much as it laughed at his guest, Fred Allen.

But nobody screamed or swooned.

Santa Maria is the southernmost of the Azores.

Blinded Soldier Writes Classic Letter to Santa

Phoenixville, Pa., Dec. 12 (AP)—Cpl. Chester R. Perkins, hopelessly blinded by a land mind in Germany and a patient in Valley Forge Hospital for 21 months, has written his first letter to Santa Claus—

"If God chooses, let me find beneath my Christmas tree two bright, shiny blue eyes—so that the memory of the last Christmas I saw may be blotted forever from my mind."

After many examinations, a doctor asked:

"Soldier, do you want it straight?"

"That's the way I want it," Perkins replied.

"You'll never see again."

Perkins, a former Indinapolis High School athlete, wrote to the Indianapolis News that he planned to study journalism at Butler University, and enclosed the following letter, which the News copyrighted:

Dear Santa Claus:

Aren't we all children? Can't all of us, though some of us are adult in mind, ask for the things which we want most in life? I can't remember ever writing you before., but I have found it so increasingly difficult to obtain this thing which I want, that I thought perhaps you could help.

As a small child, I can remember wanting playthings and candy; as a teen-aged youth I wanted smart clothing and athletic equipment; now, I want something entirely different. It's not as childish as a plaything or, as temporary as a piece of candy; nor is it as ostentatious as smart clothing, or as energetic as athletic equipment. It is practical. Most people would think it a necessity. It isn't. Only the person who doesn't have it can understand that. He knows, it is a God-given luxury.

"Think of You as Intermediary"

In asking for this, I have to think of you as an intermediary between God and me, for I have already said that it is God-given. He gave it to me once before, when I was born, but I lost it. I have missed it so much, and would like to have it back.

Dear Santa, if God chooses, let me find beneath my Christmas tree two bright, shiny blue eyes brimming over with good health and true vision. Let me place them in my head, then let me look out through the window at the snow lying deep and crisp and even, as far as those beautiful eyes can see. Let me drink in the looks of joy on the faces of those who love me, who have seen me groping and stumbling in the dark for so long. Let me hold those eyes aloft to the Christmas star that I might not forget the true meaning of Christmas. Let me see all these things so that the memory of the last Christmas I saw might be blotted forever from my mind. Replace the screaming of shells, the rumbling of tanks, the sound of tired marching feet with the singing of hymns, the laughter of little sisters, and the voices of thankful people. Replace the filthy, smelly mud of battle and the drawn faces of dying men with the cool feeling of fresh, clean sheets and the hopeful faces of men born anew.

Bring me those eyes for these purposes, and I will be grateful forever to him who once gave them to me. If, on Christmas morn, I should not find them there, I won't really mind, and I will still be grateful to God, for haven't I still a good mind, a strong body, friends who love me, and a desire to justify the reason for my existence. After all, aren't these the important things in life?

So, Santa, there it is. That's what I want for Christmas. Please try, won't you.

From a grown-up little boy,
CPL. CHESTER R. PERKINS.

Political Storm Bursts Upon Rome

Upheaval Is Caused Over Mayor's Election

Rome, Dec. 12 (AP)—A political storm that threatened to spread to the National Government burst upon Rome today as a Christian-Democrat councilman elected mayor of the Eternal City in a tumultuous session last night, was forced to resign when Leftist fellow councilmen refused to participate in the city junta.

The short-lived mayor, 52-year-old Salvatore Rebecchini, was elected when the pivotal Christian-Democrats threw their votes to the Right, thereby defeating the Leftist bloc of the people which had won the municipal election in November.

As the results of the vote were announced, Leftist partisans among the spectators assailed the Christian-Democrats with shouts of "fools," "sell-outs" and "throw the priests out of the campidoglio" (Rome's city hall). Leftist councilmen then announced their refusal to take part in the administration. The Council will try to elect another mayor in 12 days.

Dewey Says State Faces Difficulty Balancing Budget

in a train wreck at Castle Rock, Wash.

To Lock Up Surplus

Although current revenues are exceeding estimates, Dewey said any surplus at the end of the fiscal year, March 31, would be "locked up" automatically in constitutionally-prescribed reserve funds.

The 1946-47 operating surplus, which has been estimated at from $80,000,000 to $100,000,000, could be appropriated by the 1947 legislature before the end of the fiscal period, he continued, but only for non-recurring items.

Neither increased wages for state employes or higher salaries for teachers, through augmented state aid, could be considered non-recurring items, he added.

Dewey stressed, however, that this should not be interpreted to mean that decisions had been reached on the salary issues. Both problems are being studied by special committees which, he pointed out, have not yet reported their findings.

New Businesses Attracted

The governor attributed the state's larger revenues, in part, to the reduced taxes which he said had attracted new businesses into the state. He said increasing taxes would not increase revenues.

If the developing 1946-47 surplus is not appropriated by the new legislature, the governor declared it will go automatically into "rainy day" reserve funds for state and local use, the state and local reserves now total $85,500,000, against a ceiling of $222,500,010. Operating surpluses, he explained, must go into the funds until the ceiling is reached.

Dewey attributed the rise in public welfare costs to a greater case load, increased allotments, and relief, for which the state's share has nearly doubled.

Explosion Shatters West Shore Hotel Glass

A mysterious explosion, which was presumed to have originated in the large gas range in the kitchen of the West Shore Hotel on Railroad avenue, blew out and shattered the plate glass window in the barroom, which adjoins the kitchen, late Wednesday afternoon.

Inspection of the rage showed that it had received no damage and none of the persons in the barroom at the time was injured.

Mrs. Imperial, wife of Manager Thomas J. Imperial, said this morning that she had lighted the burner on top of the gas range, preparatory to getting dinner and had stepped over to a refrigerator when suddenly there was an explosion. A mass of "flame" is said to have shot through the open kitchen door, passed through the barroom and struck a large plate glass window facing on Railroad avenue. The window was broken. No other damage was reported.

Fire Chief J. L. Murphy and Henry Eltinge of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., made an investigation this morning, but up to the present time have not determined the cause of the explosion, it was stated.

A small oven which had been in place on top of the range had not been moved and a burner still was burning, following the incident.

E. T. Strong, manager of the Central Hudson, said this noon that the investigation had disclosed that the gas stove did not explode.

U.N. May Act Tonight On Rockefeller Gift

New York, Dec. 12 (AP)—Acceptance or rejection of the $8,500,000 gift site offered by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is expected tonight from the United Nations permanent headquarters committee.

A sub-committee of the 54-nation site committee inspected the 18-acre area bounded by the East river and First avenue in mid-Manhattan and then was closeted drawing up a report for presentation to the full 54-nation committee meeting tonight.

Names Bilbo Manager

Washington, Dec. 12 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Thomas N. Robins told Senate investigators today that A. B. Friend, 1940 campaign manager for Senator Bilbo (D-Miss.), was the "promoter" and "front man" for a group of contractors whon won a $1,731,029 contract to build an army air field at Meridan, Miss.

President Blames Strikes for Powers

about the mine workers' leader or about the recent coal strike.

"You hope the courts will follow the election returns? One reporter pressed. Mr. Truman replied with a simple no comment.

The President said he would send separately to the new Republican-controlled Congress a state of the Union legislative message, a message on the budget and a third message based on the report to be made soon by his Economic Advisory (maximum employment) Council.

Will Send Messages

These messages, the President said, will be sent to Capitol Hill on separate days.

Asked whether he saw any chance for reduction of taxes, the President said he did not want to discuss what recommendations he will make.

He did say, however, that he will renew his request for a merger of the armed forces as one point in his state of the Union message.

Told that there had been reports he proposed to recommend modification of the Wagner Labor Relations Act, the President replied bluntly that nobody had a right to quote him until he made public his message to Congress.

The House Committee on post-war economic policy and planning added its voice to the congressional clamor for new labor legislation.

In its final report, the 18-member group composed of both Democrats and Republicans called for "constructive—not punitive" laws to eliminate labor-management disputes and at the same time cautioned against a depression psychology.

"There is nothing wrong with the country that hard work and resultant production will not cure," the committee commented. "Considering everything, there is no necessity for either a depression or recession."

Among other things the committee called for:

An end to O.P.A.'s general powers next January 31, with rent controls continuing through 1947.

Cutting the current $41,000,000,000 federal budget to $30,000,000,000, with "some reduction" in taxes and the national debt.

Against Tax Cut in '47

Across the capitol, however, Senator Harry F. Byrd (D,-Va.), one of Congress' chief economy advocates, declared there should be no tax reduction at all in 1947.

Byrd told reporters it would be "reckless" to cut taxes until Congress makes sure the government has been placed on a stable financial basis.

If the national income should drop from its present $165,000,000,000 a year level to $100,000,000,000, he figured, the tax yield would slump from $39,000,000,000 to $20,000,000,000.

Byrd said that sum would be insufficient to meet even the three most basic obligations of government: $5,000,000,000 for interest on the public debt, $12,000,000,000 for national defense, and $4,000,000,000 for veterans.

Production Big Item

Declaring that the national income is determined by production, the Virginia senator added that whether the national income plummets in 1947 depends in large measure upon whether disastrous shut-downs and strikes occur in industry.

As a measure of prevention, Byrd said he would press for early enactment of legislation requiring labor unions to incorporate and register with the Securities Commission, under pain of being deprived of their rights under the Wagner Labor Relations Act.

In addition, he declared the closed shop and industry-wide bargaining should be outlawed and unions should be subject to suit for violation of their contracts.

Meanwhile Republican Senators Taft (Ohio), Ball (Minn.), and Smith (N.J.) continued a series of private discussions on labor legislation.

Woodstockers Will Fight District Reorganization

Egan said he would appear at the hearing next week but that an application for a public hearing had been sought by the Woodstock group some time ago and that application wis still pending and would be pressed. The application for a hearing on the town of Woodstock central district plan, he said had been filed some time ago and was not a part of the hearing which is scheduled for next Thursday to consider the "master plan" of school district re-organization in the county.

It is expected that other school representatives will appear at the hearing Thursday. Notices of the meeting were received locally yesterday.

Two hours later George Gulla and Leotta were arrested in another automobile. That afternoon the two safes, intact, were found by State Troopers in the woods near Loch Sheldrake.

Big 4 Contemplates Ending Sessions in New York Today

Six-Point Agenda Ready on Germany and Austria Next March 10

New York, Dec. 12 (AP)—Paced by a new round of concessions from Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, the Big Four Foreign Ministers Council arranged to finish its historic peacemaking sessions in New York today after having completed plans for drafting German and Austrian peace settlements.

A final meeting was scheduled for 4 p. m. (E.S.T.) to clean up minor details of the five European satellite peace treaties and approve the draft of a six-point agenda for the Big Four Conference in Moscow March 10 to begin work on treaties with Germany and Austria.

In a busy, swift-moving session last night the Big Four agreed that prior to the Moscow sessions small nations would be given full opportunity to present their proposals for German and Austrian settlements to boards of great power deputy foreign ministers in London beginning January 14.

Due mainly to last minute agreement by Molotov it was also decided that Secretary of State James F. Byrnes' proposals for sharply limiting occupation armies in Europe and for a 40-year German disarmament pact would be fully considered at the Moscow meeting.

Molotov tentatively blocked a Byrnes move to invite the Chinese government to participate in the Moscow meeting and final decision was due on that at today's closing session, but indications were that Molotov's objections would stand.

Little remained to be done on the six-point agenda for the Moscow conference except to put it into final formal language. It was fully approved in substance last night.

Law Governing Hiring of Minors

Employers Urged to Hire Only Legal Age Workers

Retail trade employers hiring extra help for the Christmas season were reminded today by Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi that under provisions of the State's Child Labor Laws, no minor under 14 years of age is permitted to work in retail establishments, and that working permits are necessary for all employes under 18.

"The retail trade industry's compliance with child labor laws thus far this year," said Commissioner Corsi, "has surpassed that of 1945. Our records show that there were a total of 4,199 violations reported last year but only 1,439 recorded through September of this year."

Retail stores are among the largest employers of child labor.

Urging employers to protect themselves by hiring only legal age workers and insisting on work permits in cases where the law so requires, Mr. Corsi briefly outlined the provisions of the law as follows:

Childen 14-15 years old, with permits, may work eight hours a day and 44 hours in a six day week when school is not in session, but may not work before 8 a. m. nor after 6 p. m.

Minors 16-17 years of age may work a total of 48 hours in a six day week. Girls in this age group may not work before 7 a. m. nor after 10 p. m. Male minors 16-17 are permitted to be employed anytime between the hours of 6 a. m. and 12 midnight.

During weeks when school is in session, children 14-15 may work no more than three hours in any school day, nor more than 23 hours in a six day week.

Minors 16-17, attending day sessions school may work no more than four hours in any school day nor more than 28 hours in a six day week.

Commissioner Corsi also pointed out that minors engaged during the Christmas season are covered by the Retail Trade Minimum Wage Order which provides that part time employes working up to 30 hours a week be paid at least 57½ cents an hour, over 30 and up to 40 hours $21.00 a week and overtime thereafter.

Census by Plane

Cheyenne, Wyo. (AP)—A recently completed aerial survey by the state game and fish department set Wyoming's antelope population at 48,043, in contrast to an estimated 5,000 forty years ago. But the department warned that an antelope kill of 42,579 in the past three years was far too heavy and this year's permits will be limited to 11,000. Antelope still are outnumbered by deer which the census estimates at 64,058.

Not by Cook

Riverton, Wyo. (AP)—Lowell Coen thought the meat shortage had hit a new bottom when he found a peacock in the bulk storage room of his frozen food lockers. But an attendant explained that the bird wasn't for eating, its owners had left it there while making arrangements for a stuffing and mounting job.

Betancourt Holds His Government Through Uprising

Venezuelan President Says All Is Well; Many Attempt to Flee Country

Caracas, Venezuela, Dec. 12 (AP)—The government of President Romulo Betancourt emerged unscathed today after an abortive 12-hour revolt yesterday in which insurgents made a bold bid to capture the president and overthrow his year-old revolutionary cabinet.

"All is okay," Betancourt told newsmen last night. He said all the instigators either had been captured or had fled the country. There were no fatalities and only a few were wounded, he added.

Many of the insurgents—seeing that their revolt had failed—took planes at the Maracay airport, which they captured at the outset of the uprising, and attempted to flee the country, the president said, but most of the ships soon ran out of gas, and were picked up by government forces after making forced landings.

Two ships succeeded in reaching Colombia, where both pilots and 14 mechanics surrendered to authorities. In one of the planes was Maj. Carlos Maldonado Pena, described as a leader of the revolt.

"The leaders of the rebellion will get jail sentences," Betancourt said. "There will be no executions. The rebels were definitely linked with the faction of Lopez Contreras and (Gen. Isaias) Medina Angarita, both former presidents and leaders of the party overthrown in the revolution of Oct. 18, 1945."

Betancourt came to power after that uprising, and his party won the recent elections.

Weather Turns Colder

The change from the recent warm weather to more normal temperatures began about midnight Tuesday and the 59 degrees registered at 12:30 Wednesday morning was the high for the day, according to the city engineer's office. The lowest point reached during the night was 32 degrees, at 4 o'clock this morning.

Hamburger Was Burning

Dense clouds of smoke pouring from the Sweet Shop on Fair street about 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon brought out the firemen from the Wiltwyck fire station nearby and lines of hose were laid. Investigation disclosed, however, that it was nothing more serious than burning hamburger steak.

Fay and Clarke Are Free on $5,000 Bond

Jersey City, N. Y., Dec. 12 (AP)—Joseph S. Fay, A.F.L. building trades union official, and John R. Clark, Jersey City labor leader, were out on $5,000 bond each today pending a hearing on charges of income tax evasion.

The two surrendered themselves yesterday to U.S. Commissioner M. Lester Lynch.

Fay and Clark were indicted with four others Tuesday on income tax evasion charges. Fay was named in three indictments alleging he defrauded the government of $137,548 by making improper income tax declarations, and Clark was charged with paying tax on only $11,530 instead of $92,530.

Fay is vice president of the A.F.L. International Union of Operating Engineers and business agent of its Local 825 in Newark. Clark is business agent of Local 1456, Dock Builders, Pier Carpenters and Shorers' Union (A.F.L.).

PLATTEKILL

Plattekill, Dec. 12—Vernard B. Wager was re-elected for a five year term as fire commissioner of the Plattekill Fire Department, Inc., at a recent business meeting.

A bronze tablet, commemorating local veterans of World War 2, will be erected on the grounds of the Plattekill school, in the near future.

Among hunters from this vicinity who shot deer during the past season were John Klein, John Edler, Kenenth Birdsall and C. Feldt.

Mrs. Edmund Wager and children accompanied her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wright of Onioville, to Northfield, Vt., recently, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. William DuBois and daughter Faye.

Mrs. Harriet Dayton and daughter Madeline of New Paltz, former residents of this place, are on a trip to Phoenix, Ariz., and Redwood, Calif., to visit Mrs. Dayton's brothers.

Children Start Fire

The firemen were called to the residence of Stanley Snow, 27 Washington street, at 9:24 Wednesday evening, where they put out a fire that destroyed bedding and mattress in a second floor bedroom and also did some damage to the room. A combination of two children, four and six years old and some matches was reported to have been responsible for the blaze.

"I Wish to Apply . ."

So much depends on that letter of application—it has to be perfect. Type it, if possible, preferably using white paper. Include paragraphs on your experience, education and personal qualifications.

It's good policy to give a reference for each job you've had, and your reason for leaving it. To be on the safe side, type your signature in addition to writing it.

The Kingston Freeman Reader Service booklet clears up many troublesome points about letter writing. There are samples of different types of letters, including thank-you, sympathy, congratulation, invitation, application. Also data on good English usage.

Toy Designer's Career Is to Please Children

Toys the Way Children Want Them Is Motto of Anne Farrell, Toy Designer

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeature Writer

Toys the way children want them" is Anne Farrell's motto—and the pretty blond toy designer is making a career of pleasing the small-fry.

"There are so many things to take into consideration before selecting a toy for a child," says the petite Anne, "but few people stop to think that there are fashions in toys as in everything else."

Children are more aware of things than most people give them credit for, she says. Right now they are all agog about building houses . . . and do you know why? Anne says it's all because Mom and Pop talk about nothing else.

So she has designed housing projects for youngsters—and she hasn't left a block unturned. Knowing that children have more success with ideas they are familiar with, she has three different type units—a village, which she says is ideal for a child who is familiar with only a few houses, a big town, which consists of a few more houses plus a church with a bronze steeple; and a skyscraper city, which is a batch of square blocks to build tall buildings, for the city kids.

You are always safe, says Anne, if you bring a child toys that relate to to his environment. Not all children enjoy the same things at the same age. Pliable materials with which a child can express himself are always a good general bet.

At first there are pencils and crayons, next there is clay to mold. Then there are plain building blocks which give quicker and more successful results. City kids like buses, fire engines, milk wagons, and other things familiar to their environment. All kids enjoy pure fantasy.

Anne ought to know how little minds tick. When she left her home at East Jordan, Mich., to attend Marygrove College, she already had decided to interest herself in nursery school life. Later she attended the Alene Lowery Fisher art school in Detroit, helped her friends who were nursery school teachers, and attended progressive nursery schools to observe youngsters during play periods. Columbia University gave her background in play materials, studio woodworking and retailing.

It takes a year and a half-year school session to test a child's toy, says Anne. Now affiliated with the Gilbert Hall of Science, she is making her toy-testing dreams come true. She can test to her heart's delight and transposes from darwing board to model form to play pen until she knows what the little types think of the toys.

One time Anne made the startling discovery that children in Sweden had no blocks. She says she couldn't "sleep nights worrying about it." She had made her discovery while writing a paper on what types of toys were made in various parts of the world.

At the Swedish consulate in New York she met Mrs. Alva Myrdal, one of the world's foremost sociologists and a founder of the Stockholm Teachers College, who was in America on a visit.

As a result of this contact, Anne was sent to Sweden, where she established the first government-sponsored equipment for nursery schools and kindergartens.

Anne had found out that 50 percent of the finished natural resources of Sweden were wood and wood products so it didn't take her long to get Swedish manufacturers started on a block-making industry. The child-loving Anne shudders and says wide-eyed and unbelievingly:

"Can you imagine—all that wood —and no blocks!"

Prisma Girls Will Sell Christmas Seals

Members of the Social Service Committee of Prisma, Kingston High School girls' organization will sell Christmas seals for the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association. Those who will participate in the sales will be: Mrs. Wilson Norwood, faculty adviser; Ruth Palen, committee chairman; Jane Bower, Jeanne Brodhead, Bernice Edge, Shirley Elliott, Nancy Miuccio and Donna Mustaparta. (Freeman Photo)

Prisma Members To Sell Christmas Seals in Stores

Cooperating with the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association in their work to bring tuberculosis under control, the Social Service Committee of the Prisma Society of Kingston High School has volunteered to work on Friday and Saturday of this week, which have been designated as double-barred cross days. Small replicas of the red double-barred crosses—emblem of the tuberculosis association as well as of the Christmas Seals—will be sold by the Prisma girls on Friday evening and Saturday afternoon at the Christmas cards' counters of Grant's, Woolworth's and Newberry's.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to augment the funds from the Christmas Seals Sale which opened November 25 and will continue until Christmas. Returns will finance the work of the association.

"This is an excellent time for the citizens of our Ulster county to show their appreciation to the tuberculosis association for the work it does the year round to protect our health," said Mrs. Wilson R. Norwood, faculty adviser of Prisma Society. "Tuberculosis is one of the leading causes of death in this country and kills more young people between 15 and 35 than any other disease. It causes great suffering and economic waste. Every person in the community benefits from every step taken to bring the complete eradication of tuberculosis one step nearer.

400 X-rays Completed

"The tuberculosis association just completed 400 X-rays of senior students at Kingston High School yesterday. This program is financed entirely by the sale of Christmas Seals. We are glad to be able to help the tuberculosis association on Friday and Saturday which have been designated as double-barred cross days."

Grand Jury Hits Drinking in Movies

Chicago, Dec. 12 (AP)—The movies, a federal grand jury believes have too many drinking scenes, and urges the motion picture industry to correct the situation.

The jurors sent a letter to Eric A. Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, and said they were "impressed with the large number of criminal cases in which intoxicating drink plays a large part.

"Multitudes of young people and children who attend the motion pictures are faced with portrayal of drinking scenes in almost every picture," the letter said, and this "exerts a tremendous influence in their accepting and adopting drinking habits, which in many cases lead to crime."

The jurors, acting independently and with no official status, asked Johnston to "take steps improving this situation by greatly eliminating or reducing to a great extent the drinking scenes in motion pictures."

U. S. Attorney J. Albert Woll said he was "greatly interested" in the jury's action and would forward a copy of the letter to Attorney General Clark. "Something should be done about juvenile delinquency on a national scale," Woll said.

Sharp Car Damaged

The left side of the body, rear fender and bumper of the Chevrolet coach of Fred Sharp, Sr., of 17 German street, was damaged Wednesday afternoon when it was in collision with a sedan being operated by Albert Pross of 104 Second avenue. Officers Burns and Schoonmaker, who investigated, found that Pross was backing out of a driveway as Sharp was driving south on Hasbrouck avenue, near Garden street.

Stolen From Parish House

Sally Ann Rose of 193 Clinton avenue reported to the police at 4:40 Wednesday afternoon that during the past hour her bicycle had been stolen from the parish house of the First Reformed Church. It is a red and cream colored "Westfield" girl's bicycle.

U. S. Court Puts Approval on Case Against Krepper

Philadelphia, Dec. 12 (AP)—A 10-year sentence imposed by the Federal District Court at Newark, N. J., on Carl Emil Ludwig Krepper, following his conviction on a charge of trading with the enemy, was upheld yesterday by the Third U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Krepper, an accountant and former steward of the fashionable downtown club in Newark, was sentenced to a total of 12 years in March, 1945. He already has served a two-year term for failing to register as a German agent.

He appealed the remaining 10-year sentence, denying that he had traded with the enemy or violated censorship rules.

The government had charged him specifically with contacting lieutenant Walter Kaffe, described as one of Hitler's leading espionage organizers and the man credited with arranging for landing saboteurs on Long Island, N. Y., during the war.

He has been held in prison because of failure to raise the $25,000 bail set by Circuit Court pending his appeal.

Little to Worry About

Chicago, Dec. 12 (AP)—Tomorrow is Friday, the 13th, which to some is an omen of ill luck, but the National Safety Council says forget it and relax. The council, however, suggested to be careful as there will be just as many accidents tomorrow as any other day—but no more. Tomorrow will be the second Friday the 13th this year and for those who worry about such dates there won't be another until next June. That will be the only Friday the 13th in 1947.

CONSERVATION OF GAS and ELECTRICITY IN THE RECENT EMERGENCY

We wish to take this opportunity to thank all of our customers for the part each and everyone played in limiting use of gas and electricity in their homes and places of business. Although the miners are back at work, it will take some time to catch up on coal stocks.

During this period care in the use of gas and electricity is still needed and consequently waste should be avoided.

However, we hope everyone's Christmas season will be cheerful and merry, and may your tree shine brightly!

Communist Paper Says Bevin Is Ill; Report Is Denied

London, Dec. 12 (AP)—The Communist Daily Worker, quoting members of a trade union delegation just returned from New York, today described Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin as "so ill that he is unable to move anywhere for long without a doctor in attendance."

In a special article entitled "Britain Is Leaderless at United Nations," the paper declared that because of Bevin's condition the country's delegation at the U.N. "really is in the hands of old line foreign office officials."

(In New York, a source close to Mr. Bevin scoffed at the report, declaring that the British foreign secretary had not missed a single meeting of the Big Four Foreign Ministers Council since it convened at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel November 4.

(In addition, he has attnded session of the United Nations when the Foreign Ministers Council was not meeting, this source said, adding that Bevin also had gone to Washington recently to visit President Truman and had attended a football game.

("Of course he has a doctor with him," the source continued. "You will remember that he was quite ill last summer, just as the Paris peace conference began. But he is strong now, he works long and hard and he certainly is not a sick man.")

Roosevelts Leave Russia For Visit in Poland

Moscow, Dec. 12 (AP)—Elliott Roosevelt and his actress wife, Faye Emerson, left by plane today for a short visit to Poland.

They returned to Moscow from the Georgian Soviet Socialist Republic late yesterday, laden with oranges and tangerines.

Roosevelt said he planned to be in the United States either December 22 or 23 to spend Christmas with his mother.

He was invited to visit Poland.

Roosevelt said he had no comment concerning reports in the United States that the story of his discussion of international affairs at a private American party leaked out through a State Department message from Moscow.

Concerning reports that the story came from Miss Ruth Briggs (the former Wac captain whose mother once announced that Ruth would marry Elliott Roosevelt), the former President's son laughed.

He said he found upon his return an invitation from Miss Briggs for him and Mrs. Roosevelt to attend a dance she gave at Spasso House, residence of the American ambassador. Miss Briggs is a secretary to Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith.

Inefficient vision ranked third as a cause for rejection in the U. S. armed forces.

Food Tax Lifted

Warsaw (AP)—The Polish peasant farmer, who for more than a year after Poland's liberation paid his taxes "in kind," by supplying provisions and foodstuffs, now pays his levies in cash. A recent decree relieved peasants from paying with foodstuffs which had caused much grumbling and discontent among the farmers who preferred to sell their produce for cash in the free markets.

Rotarian Charles A. Back gave an illuminating talk on the tobacco industry in the State of Connecticut at the regular weekly luncheon-meeting of Kingston Rotary held Wednesday at the Hotel Stuyvesant.

The Connecticut tobacco fields produced the best tobacco wrapper in continental United States, the speaker declared in describing the industry. Mr. Back told of the method of production through the use of the cheese-cloth tents and gave factual information on costs and acreage production and profits in this area.

He also gave an interesting account of the tobacco raising business in Cuba and contrasted the costs. Following his brief talk, Mr. Back answered questions relating to the cigar industry.

Wallander Calls 11 Police Officials For Body Checkups

New York, Dec. 12 (AP)—Eleven high police officials were summoned to headquarters for physical checkups today as Police Commissioner Arthur W. Wallander pursued his declared policy of "getting tough" in Harlem.

"We are proceeding in an intensive investigation of the whole Harlem situation," Wallander told newsmen yesterday. "We are going to straighten out everything in Harlem."

Physical examinations for the 11 officials were ordered by Wallander as part of the shakeup which already had resulted in transfers or promotions of nine police officers and immediate retirement of Assistant Chief Inspector John J. De Martino. Policemen who cannot pass such examinations may be forced to retire on pension.

Wallander made clear the shakeup resulted from his dissatisfaction with progress in the investigation of a fatal election day beating in Rep. Vito Marcantonio's 18th Congressional District, as well as "crime conditions generally."

Joseph Scattereggio, a Republican worker in the East Harlem district which re-elected Marcantonio (D.-A.L.P.), died a few days after his election day beating.

Joey Rao and Mike Coppola, who had been held in $250,000 bail each as material witnesses, were declared by Supreme Court Justice Aaron J. Levy yesterday to be entitled to release in $40,000 bail each.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan filed an appeal on Judge Levy's decision to a higher court, which will prevent the men from obtaining release until the appeal is decided.

Emilio Tizol, Harlem election worker, also was held in bail—$15,000—as a material witness in the case.

Says Horses Faster

Boston, Dec. 12 (AP)—Horse-drawn fire engines got to fires in Boston's downtown business section faster than present motorized equipment, Fire Commissioner Russell S. Codman says. Congested traffic nullifies the speed of high-powered fire trucks, he says in contending horses could travel the same runs in better time. Mayor James M. Curley suggested the situation could be remedied by a more elaborate system of sirens to clear the streets when the alarm sounded.

Senator Fulbright Still Favors President Truman Resignation

Washington, Dec. 12 (AP)—Senator J. William Fulbright (D., Ark.) credited President Truman today with a "very good job" in handling the coal strike crisis but clung to his recommendation that the Chief Executive resign in favor of a Republican.

Despite a barrage of criticism from both fellow Democrats and Republicans, the 41-year old lawmaker said he still is convinced that Mr. Truman should step down "for the good of the country and for the good of his party."

Fulbright, former Oxford scholar and university president, first advanced his proposal the day after the November 5 election in which the Republicans swept to control of Congress.

"My suggestion is not a reflection on anyone's integrity, patriotism, or anything else," the senator told a reporter today. "It would merely correct an obvious defect in our present system which has resulted when the President is a member of one party and the majority of Congress another."

As for Mr. Truman's role in the coal crisis, Fulbright declared:

"I think President Truman did a very good job in convincing John L. Lewis that he meant business and was not going to give in. I certainly think that was well handled."

Despite the opposition he has encountered, Fulbright said he will press legislation in the next Congress to eliminate the situation that permits one party to hold the presidency while another controls Congress.

"It may not get very far but at least it will get people thinking about this problem which really is a serious one," the senator asserted.

Connecticut Sends Two Detectives to Bennington Area

Man and Woman Check All Angles of Case of Missing College Student

Bennington, Vt., Dec. 12 (AP)—Two skilled Connecticut sleuths—a man and a woman—were given a free hand today as they attempted to solve the disappearance Dec. 1 of Pretty Paula Welden, 18-year-old Bennington College sophomore.

State's Attorney William Travers Jerome directed that no one interfere with, or follow the two detectives, Lieutenant Robert N. Rundle and Mrs. Dora Scoville.

The girl's father, W. Archibald Welden of Stamford, Conn., declined an offer of 40 employes of the Revere Copper Company of Rome, N. Y., where he is retained as an industrial engineer, to come here during the week-end and conduct a new search of Glastonbury Mountain. He expressed the opinion that the area where his daughter was last reported seen had been sufficiently investigated.

A few Bennington residents continued to explore the mountain independently today, but an organized search apparently was at an end.

Route Is Retraced

In opening their investigation, the Connecticut detectives, escorted by Jerome, retraced the route known to have been taken by Paula the Sunday afternoon she disappeared. This led from the college campus to the home of Louis Knapp, Bennington contractor, who told authorities that after the girl hailed him, he gave her a ride in his truck and that she got out about two and a half miles from the entrance to Long Trail, on Glastonbury Mountain, where she told him she was going for a hike.

The Connecticut officers were then driven to the mountain trail.

Jerome issued an appeal to all campers, hikers and others who were in the region Sunday, Dec. 1, to contact him.

A letter purporting to tell where the missing girl's body would be found, near Long Trail, was received today by the police. It bore a New Hampshire postmark and although officers felt it might be the work of a crank, Jerome said it would be investigated as a matter of course.

Go Into Conference

The Connecticut detectives went into conference with Vermont investigators immediately after arriving here.

Before making a move they discussed all the circumstances with State's Attorney William T. Jerome, who has been directing the search; the girl's father, W. Archibald Welden, a Stamford, Conn., industrial engineer, and other investigators.

This development came 12 days after the girl disappeared from the college camps. She was last reported seen heading up a Green Mountain trail. Other than that, Vermont authorities said they were without a single clue.

Vermont State Detective Aime Franzoni said that several persons who were in the area where Paula was last seen had been unable to shed any further light on the case.

Play Review

by SYLVESTER HOWARD

"Land's End" by Thomas Jib is a somber and moving play. From the moment the curtain rose on the first scene to the final act it was distinguished by its obvious sincerity. Based on a novel by Mary Ellen Chase, it tells the ancient legend of tragic love in Cornwall. Most people know the story as retold by Wagner in Tristan and Isolde. The new version shows us a handsome fisherman who is loved by a simple girl, who has a job cleaning fish at the docks. Working with her is a friend who also falls in love with the fisherman. He struggles against the love but he is overcome by passion. The young girl is unaware of what has happened and happily plans her wedding day. She is doomed never to have it for her beloved is unable to live life being untrue to her or without his real love. Only after he throws himself in the sea does the girl learn of his unfaithfulness. It is her role to forgive the woman who took him from her.

The whole production breathes the tragic drama. Donald Benslager has created magnificent sets showing the Cornwall seaside. The actors play as though they believe in the characters and the author after a rather slow start built up a sense of doom in a role which might easily have become tryingly sweet. Helen Craig gives a simple and touching performance. Shirley Booth, who is usually seen as the sophisticated New York type, makes her part as the villainess credible and sympathetic as the illfated fisherman Walter Coy probably acts with too much reserve but he plays with quiet vigor. The other members of the cast from Theodore Newton as a kindly professor to Minnie Dupree as the ancient grandmother are equally good in their varied roles.

"Land's End" has its faults. It is not carefully written. There are many scenes that are abrupt and much of the dialogue is awkward. The actors often have difficulty remembering they are Cornwall fisher folk and not refined artists. The staging is often falsely theatrical when it should be clean and simple. Paul Bowles' incidental music with much borrowing from Wagner is generally ineffective and the director should have been able to make the play move at a more even pace. But even though "Land's End" has its shortcomings, it is a genuinely moving play. It is good to have a new play on Broadway which tells its story simply and sincerely instead of relying on mere smartness.

Stamps IN THE NEWS

By the AP Feature Service

(AP Newsfeatures)

Stamp albums of the future are likely to contain some new stamp-issuing countries as a result of current demands in the United Nations, peace treaty negotiations and independence movements throughout the world.

Latest likely stamp-issuing prospect is the proposed sovereign United States of Indonesia, agreed upon by the delegates of The Netherlands and the Indonesian Republic in conferences at Batavia, Java, in mid-November.

Stamps of the Netherlands Indies are now used in the proposed U. S. I. but undoubtedly will be replaced. As a matter of fact, a definitive series of stamps issued by the Indonesian Republic already has been reported, but these too seem likely to be replaced eventually.

Another new stamp-issuing country is expected to be the Faroe Islands, which voted last September for independence from Denmark.

In the United Nations, Premier Jan Christian Smuts of the Union of South Africa already has called for incorporation of Southwest Africa into South Africa. Southwest Africa has had its own definitive stamps and has used overprints of South African stamps since World War I. In London a South African government spokesman has announced that the Union plans to seek incorporation of three British stamp-issuing colonies — Bechuanaland, Swaziland and Basutoland.

The Post Office Department's answer to suggestions that the thousands of eight-cent airmail stamps remaining on hand be overprinted with the new five-cent value, as were the stamped envelopes, is that the cost would be prohibitive. It would cost more to overprint the stamps than to have new stamps printed, a department official said. The remaining stock of eight-cent stamps will be kept on sale at the department's Philatelic Agency, this official said, "for a number of years" for the benefit of collectors. The scarcity of envelopes, on the other hand, made it profitable to overprint and devalue stocks of the six-cent airmail stamped envelopes when the new rate became effective. These overprinted envelopes were shipped to Army and Navy post offices abroad.

Sweden has marked the 100th anniversary of the death of its great poet, Esaias Tegner, with 10 and 40-ore stamps showing a profile bust of Tegner. Born in 1782, Tegner became a lecturer in philosophy at Lund University in 1802. His patriotic ode "Svea," written in 1811, marked a turning point in Swedish literature. His "Frithiof's Saga," written in 1825, established him as one of Sweden's greatest poets. He was ordained in 1812 and was made bishop of Vexio in 1824. He died in 1846. The 10-ore stamp is purple and the 40-ore olive green.

Brazil's Fourth National Orchid Exposition, held at Rio de Janeiro in November, has been observed by the South American nation with an attractive ultramarine, red and yellow 40-centavo stamp. Picturing two orchids, the stamp is inscribed "4a Exposcicao Nacional de Orquideas Rio de Janeiro." Brazil used a flower for the design of a stamp once before the current issue. The Victoria Regia water lily is pictured on one of the three stamps issued in 1940 to commemorate the New York World's Fair.

Ireland's latest stamp issue commemorates the centenary of the births of Charles Stewart Parnell and Michael Davitt, leaders of Eire's independence movement. The 2½-pence red and three-pence blue stamps picture a ploughman against a background of a cottage and a mountain. Arms of the four provinces of Ireland appear in the four corners.

Three-Way Car Collision Sends Woman to Hospital

A collision involving three motor vehicles at the intersection of Hasbrouck avenue and East Chester street, Wednesday, sent Mrs. Frank Berardi of Kingston R.D. 1 to the Kingston Hospital for observation.

Mrs. Berardi was released after an examination for a possible injury to her right shoulder.

The crash, according to the police, took place about 2 p. m. when the car in which Mrs. Berardi was riding with her husband, as he drove west on Hasbrouck avenue, was struck by a trailer truck of the Great Lakes Forwarding Co. of Buffalo. William Rutledge of Salmanca was driving the commercial vehicle south on East Chester street.

The passenger car, owned by Anna Carro of East Kingston, swerved and struck a city bus which Kenneth Van Etten, the driver, had parked at the curb on Hasbrouck avenue, near the intersection.

Damage was reported to the right rear fender of the auto driven by Mr. Berardi and to the left front of the city bus. There was no damage to the truck.

St. Paul's Couples Club Holds Christmas Party

The first annual Christmas party of the Couples' Club of St. Paul's Lutheran Church was held Tuesday evening in the church hall. The guest speaker was the Rev. Russell S. Gaenzle, who also showed slides on "Christmas Blessings." Sitting at speakers table left to right are Dr. O. L. Russell Gaenzle, guest speaker and Mrs. Gaenzle; Mrs. Donald Wells, treasurer; Donald Wells, vice-president and Mrs. Schreiber. (Freeman Photo)

New Business and Professional Group Formed By Hadassah; Temporary Officers Are Named

The initial and organizing meeting of the Business and Professional Group of Hadassah was held at the Ahavath Israel Hall Wednesday night. Miss Sophie Berman, president of the Lower New York State Region of Junior Hadassah and Mrs. Getlow, education chairman of the lower New York State Region, spoke on behalf of the organization, its multivarious functions and need for greater membership.

A temporary slate of officers and committee chairmen to preside until the termination of the fiscal year in June were appointed as follows: the Misses Lucille Kline, president; Rose Silverberg, secretary; Sarah Israel, treasurer; Sadie Lutzin, educational chairman; Janice Kenik, membership chairman; Miss Rhr, chairman of Hadassah Medical organization; Bernice Miller, Jewish national fund chairman; Lillian Samuels, chairman of Youth Aliyah.

Mrs. Joseph Levine, Mrs. Nathaniel Gross, and Mrs. Harold Mandell, hostesses and representatives of Senior Hadassah and Judah Katz, community director, were present at the meeting.

Miss Genevieve Grovijahn Elected President Of Y.W.C.A. Business and Professional Club

Miss Genevieve Grovijahn was elected president of the Business and Professional Girls' Club of the Y.W.C.A. Wednesday at the regular meeting. Also elected to serve with her are Miss Mabel Flynn, vice president; Miss Bertha Waterman, corresponding secretary; Miss Theresa Lloyd, recording secretary; Miss Carolyn Vogt, treasurer and Miss Helen Fitzsimmons, assistant treasurer. The slate of officers was presented by Miss Isabel Flynn, nominating chairman.

In addition to the election of officers an interesting meeting was conducted with Miss Helen Shell of New York as the guest speaker. Miss Shell of the Y.W.C.A. National Board has done extensive work in personnel and aptitude tests. Miss Alberta Davis of the local club met her at the Eastern Area Summer Conference in Aurora this year and invited her to come to the Kingston group. She gave 15 of the members aptitude tests and she is at the Y.W.C.A. today giving interviews to these members on the results. Last night she gave a general talk on personality and job analysis.

Next week the club will hold its final meeting of the year with a Christmas party. Members are asked to bring gifts of toys for the Volunteers of America and also one gift for exchange. The program will be in charge of the music and social committee. Reservations must be made at the "Y" by Tuesday noon.

Mrs. Fister Spoke at Atharhacton Club Meeting

Atharhacton held its final meeting of the year Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Herbert Fister was hostess to the regular December meeting at her home, 236 Smith avenue. She also gave the paper for the day on The Vanishing Landlord.

Mrs. Fister traced the history of land owning which in earlier times meant security throughout the countries of the world. She noted the attempt all through history to get the land into the hands of the people and that now because of the machinery used it was gradually going back into the hands of a few. Mrs. Fister said that this problem of land tenure has become a most important one.

In discussing her subject Mrs. Fister gave interesting accounts of the patroon system in the Hudson Valley. This system of huge landholding and tenant lands meant impoverished soil, she noted. She also illustrated her talk with details about the battles in this region and particularly the one at Delhi where Dr. Bouton was imprisoned for two years because of his attempts to free the tenants. In connection with this information she spoke of the book, "Tinhorns and Calico" which gives the story of the battles to prevent the sheriffs from collecting the rents in the 1840's and 1850's. Concerning the possibility of people going back to small farms, Mrs. Fister advised that living on the small farm should not be considered unless there is another source of income.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Harold F. King, 127 Fair street, Wednesday, January 8.

Musical Society Has Program Of Christmas Carols Wednesday

Miss Edna Merrihew was hostess to the December meeting of the Kingston Musical Society at her home, 75 Elmendorf street, Wednesday night. During the business meeting Mrs. Henry Dunbar reported on the recent meeting of the New York Federation of Music Clubs.

A program of Christmas music featuring many of the carols was arranged by Miss Lucinda Merritt and Miss Helen Turner. Mrs. William S. Eltinge opened the program by playing the Pastoral Symphony from "The Messiah" by Handel. Familiar carols were sung by the club with Miss Merrihew accompanying. These were explained through historical sketches given by several of the members: Joy to the World, Mrs. Edward Muller, Jr., Away in a Manger, Mrs. Clyde Wonderly; Deck the Halls, Mrs. Mary Chidester; O, Little Town of Bethlehem, Miss Jane Mauterstock; Angels We Have Heard on High, Mrs. Walter T. Tremper; Good Christian Men Rejoice, Mrs. John Snyder.

Other carols sung were In the Town, dialogue French carol, 15th Century, Miss Lucinda Merritt, Miss Helen Turner; The Christ-Child, Cornelius and No Candle Was There and No Fire, Liza Lehmann, Mrs. Clarence Wolfersteig; Group of carols by club with descants by Mrs. George E. Wert, Mrs. Wolfersteig, Mrs. Lester Decker, accompanist.

The Star, Polish carol, 13th century and Carol, Sweetly Carol, Charles Gilbert Spross, Mrs. Wert and Mrs. Raymond Rignall; Waking-Time, dialogue French carol, 18th century, Mrs. A. Noble Graham and Miss Merritt; Joseph Dear, O Joseph Mild, German carol, Mrs. Loyd LeFever, Mrs. Rignall, descant by Mrs. Wert.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Bertrand Bishop and Mrs. Clyde Wonderly.

Miss Meissner Speaks Of Work in India To Missionary Society

Miss Maida Meissner, a returned missionary from India and who is now affiliated with the Kingston Hospital, was the guest speaker Tuesday evening at a supper meeting of the Ponckhockie Congregational Church Missionary Society and their families. Miss Meissner who was sent to India by the United Lutheran Church gave many interesting facts about the customs, religious habits and everyday life of the people of India.

She wore a native dress or sorri and also illustrated her talk with some snapshot views of the natives showing the dress and crude ways of living. Miss Meissner who is a graduate nurse had many experiences to relate in both her hospital and Christian work.

Following her message, the Rev. Osterhoudt Phillips, pastor of the church, spoke of the great need for missionaries and of the sacrifices they make to face the unknown in spreading the Gospel of Jesus Christ to the heathen world. The Rev. Mr. Phillips also read a letter from the Rev. Charles Schoonmaker, a missionary who has just arrived and started his work on the Isle of Martinque.

In closing the group responded with the Mizpah Benediction. This meeting closed the year for the society. Officers for next year are Mrs. Osterhoudt Phillips, president; Mrs. Burdette Tuttle, vice president; Mrs. Charles McGinnis, secretary; and Mrs. Floyd Ellsworth, treasurer.

Prosecutors Prepare Individual Papers

Nuernberg, Dec. 12 (AP)—American prosecutors, undismayed by the international military tribunal's decision acquitting the German general staff, now are preparing individual prosecutions against high ranking militarists under Adolf Hitler, it was learned today.

Brig. Gen. Telford Taylor, chief counsel for U. S. war crimes trials, has a staff of analysts now searching War Department files in Washington for information about Nazi Germany's leaders.

When these files are transported to Nuernberg, it was reported, a staff of attorneys will go to work preparing individual prosecutions, principally on the charge of waging aggressive war.

German field marshals and generals who are liable to such prosecution are under lock and key, some near Frankfurt and others near Augsburg.

Guard's Plan May Call for Mountain, Winter Training

New York, Dec. 12 (AP)—The National Guard's six-year training plan may include mountain and winter warfare training for units in conveniently located areas, Maj. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, acting commander of the First Army, said yesterday.

The War Department said recently it was contemplating similar training for the First, Second, Fifth and Sixth Armies stationed in the U.S., and army ground forces now are conducting winter equipment tests in Alaska and Wisconsin, as well as winter maneuvers in Colorado.

The First Army's National Guard training section said it was testing the reaction of the states to winter and mountain training for certain of their units.

The First Army area was said to be particularly adaptable for this kind of training since it includes New England, New York, New Jersey and Delaware.

Special clothing and equipment would be provided, the army said, and plans are under way for devoting certain prescribed army drills and the 15-day field training period of the third training year to special mountain or winter work for chosen outfits.

Bottle Brings Bride

A message in a bottle thrown into the sea from the Isle of Wight was washed ashore near Stavanger, Norway, and brought Miss Wilfrid Malmberg a bridegroom. The bottle, cast adrift nine years ago by Basil Thorn, was picked up by a fisherman a year later and he and Basil corresponded until the war. After the war's end, the correspondence was renewed and young Thorn went to Norway as the fisherman's guest. There he met and married Miss Malmberg.

Dutch Ship Seed to U. S.

Caraway seed, from crops planted in 1944 while Holland still was in German hands now is being shipped to America, The Hague reports. In 1939, the Dutch had 5,152 acres planted to caraway—a crop requiring two years for fulfillment—and sold 3,125,049 pounds to the United States. One difficulty in growing caraway now is the lack of derris powder, the insecticide used to kill the caraway moth. The powder was on the strategic material list in wartime.

My Goodness, Judge Implies, Look at Me

Baltimore, Dec. 12 (AP) — Landlord Claude E. Watson, seeking the eviction of the Edwin L. Hastry family, read a four-page history of the pranks of six-year-old Edwin L. Hastry, Jr.

Items: Shortly after birth, he screamed and rocked back and forth in his crib. In later days, he dug up the lawn and threw it down the drain, and re-arranged the contents of other tenants' mailboxes.

Just high spirits, Judge J. Howard Murray ruled. He did the same thing when he was a boy—only the future jurists' activities extended over a city block.

Film Actress Rebels Against Pickle Record

Los Angeles, Dec. 12 (AP)—When film actress Lucille Ball stepped before a recording microphone and dittied "Peter Piper Picked a Peck of Pickled Peppers," she started producing a pack of pesky perturbations for herself and Radio Corp. of America.

Miss Ball is suing Radio Corp. and its subsidiary, R.C.A. Victor Records, for $100,000. She says that last August she went into Radio Corp.'s New York offices to watch her husband, Desi Arnaz, perform with his Cuban band.

Strictly as a gag, she alleges in her suit, she went before the mike and intoned the opening bars of Peter Piper's pickle picking proclivities. Now, she claims, she is horrified to learn that the record has been released with her name on it as that of the vocal artist. She says her impromptu effort does not represent her true artistic ability.

In short she wants a permanent prohibition on public production of her playful presentation of Peter Piper's passes at pickled peppers.

Sing Sing Has Fire

Ossining, N. Y., Dec. 12 (AP)—A small fire in Sing Sing prison's electrical shop forced sounding of a whistle alarm early today, causing momentary concern that a "break" had occurred at the penal institution. A guard on the prison wall sounded a factory whistle, used to summon prisoners to work, shortly after 6 a. m. when he saw smoke coming from the electrical shop. Prison employes in the town immediately responded believing that trouble had broken out.

Smokers Fire Bridge

Sydney, Australia (AP) — The 1650 ft. long single span bridge across Sydney harbor catches fire on an average of once a week. The fires occur in the wooden decking of the rail track sections. The main causes are cigarette butts, which lodge in crevices jammed with old tram tickets and are fanned by the wind. It has become necessary to increase the number of hydrants to one every 100 ft.

Educational Forum At Bard College

Members Agree on Value of Individualized Education

In an Intercollegiate Educational Forum held at Bard College Tuesday night student representatives from several leading colleges in the East stated that today a student gets out of college what he puts into it and that the various methods of higher education now used in this country actually serve as a machinery through which students may work effectively. Taking part in the discussion were: Bernard Wishy of Columbia University, Albert Kraneck of Union College, Patricia Chapman of Skidmore College, Cynthia Sonenthal from Sarah Lawrence College, Jane Coan of Vassar College and Thomas Marshall of Bard College. The moderator for the evening was Dr. Edward Fuller, newly elected president of Bard College, who opened the meeting by introducing the participants to the capacity audience ni Bard Hall.

The members of the Forum were agreed on the fact that individualized education is of great value to each student; by getting more specialized attention he cannot only learn more, but also may be better able to correlate his several courses with his main educational objectives. However, the Columbia and Vassar representatives strongly interjected their conviction that in some cases a lecture is preferable to a seminar, since a student is given certain facts under that system that he might otherwise miss and that he definitely needs in order to pursue his studies successfully.

Nevertheless, the members of the forum were unanimous in the belief that the student should be allowed some elective courses in order to concentrate in his major field so that he will be prepared for specific professional work upon graduation. The Bard member of the group emphasized the value of the field period training in use at Bard, during which time a student secures employment or some other activity which is related to his major field. In this the Bard speaker was supported by the Vassar representative who mentioned the fact that Vassar students are sometimes given credit for work done during summer vacations.

Film Studio Bawlings Out Are Four-Figure Distinction

Los Angeles, Dec. 12 (AP)—Federal court records indicated today that a four-figure weekly salary is a qualification for the privilege of getting cussed out by your boss in a Hollywood film studio.

Harry Cohn, top Columbia executive, was defending the studio yesterday against Director Charles Vidor's suit to breach his contract. Vidor claims that Cohn's profane tirades unnerved and unsettled him, and he wants to wash out his agreement reputedly paying him $2,000 a week—even while he's testifying against his boss.

"I never called Mr. Vidor ... ... until he directed 'Cover Girl'" (Vidor's first big success) Cohn testified. "Before that he made cheap pictures." In those days, Vidor's salary was $250 a week.

Cohn readily admitted that on occasion he addressed his ace director with blue-tinged adjectives, as Vidor charged.

"Oh yes, I used to call him a Hungarian ... ...," Cohn testified with a wave of his arm. "But we were good friends. That's the way I expressed my friendship."

Judge Is Puzzled

U. S. Judge Ben Harrison looked a little puzzled.

"Did he express his the same way?" he asked.

"Sure. Same way. That's the kind of relationship we had," Cohn replied. He added later that Vidor "could call me anything he liked," and that at studio luncheons everyone was free to "bawl out the boss" (himself) without fear of reprisal.

Cohn, however, firmly denied testimony of Mrs. Doris Warner Leroy Vidor—the director's wife and daughter of Harry Warner, president of a rival film studio—that Cohn tried to block her marriage to the director by phoning her that Vidor was a "tough ... ..." and had "affairs with every woman on the lot, all my actresses."

Even Some Money

Judge Harrison, frequently taking a hand in the questioning, asked Cohn to describe his duties as executive producer. Cohn said he selected actors, writers and directors, considered stories, supervised cutting of pictures, attended previews and took care of shipping problems.

"And," interposed Judge Harrison, "collect the money."

"I try to, sir, I try to," Cohn replied.

Brushton Fire Costs Village $125,000

Brushton, N. Y., Dec. 12 (AP)—A fire, which raged out of control for nearly two hours in this Franklin county village today, destroyed three stores and caused damage estimated at $125,000. One fireman was injured.

The blaze, which for a time threatened the entire community of about 500 population, was brought under control at 1:30 ... (E.S.T.) by fire companies from six villages.

David Gallivan, assistant Brushton fire chief, who made the damage estimate, said the blaze started in a garage attached to Pearl's Department Store. He said the cause was undetermined.

Leveled by the flames were the department store, a grocery and a drug store, all two-story frame buildings.

The greatest single cause of fire in the home is dirty and defective chimneys and flues.

Blanford Says Pool To Pay Dairymen $5.33

New York, Dec. 12 (AP)—C. J. Blanford, metropolitan milk marketing area administrator, announced today that dairymen who delivered milk to the area's 432 pool-approved plants in November would be paid a uniform price of $5.33 per hundredweight.

Announcement of the uniform price was made two days earlier than required, Blanford added, to permit milk handlers to pay producers before the Christmas holiday.

Payment of the uniform price will be made for milk of 3.5 per cent butterfat received at plants 201-210 miles from New York city.

Total production for November was 337,750,256 pounds, compared with 328,536,722 pounds for the month last year. There were 46,017 producers in last month's pool, or 2,464 fewer than in November, 1945.

November's production, Blanford reported, had a farm value of $18,697,065.24.

American Correspondents Are Safe at Trikkola

Athens, Dec. 12 (AP)—Two American correspondents—Robert Vermillion of the United Press and John Philips of Time and Life, missing in central Greece the past two weeks had arrived safely in Trikkala, a correspondent there reported to the Athens newspaper Embros today. There was no immediate official confirmation.

The report quoted the men as saying they had contacted guerrillas in their hideouts and had interviewed them.

The foreign ministry's press section issued a statement last night that the two were missing and that their Jeep had been abandoned at Longosto, in the Kalambaka area.

Townsend-Champion Bout Tops Tonight's Big Fight Card

Record Crowd Due At City Auditorium First Bout 9 P. M.

Supporting Scraps Promise Plenty of Action for Ring Fans on B'nai B'rith Program

This is fight night in Kingston and topping tonight's eight-bout card of amateur fisticuffs at the municipal auditorium will be the long-awaited battle between Tiny Townsend, 175, Kingston, and Willie Champion, Cleveland heavyweight. The first preliminary will go on at 9 o'clock.

Record Crowd Expected

Interest in tonight's Townsend-Champion clash presages a record turnout of boxing fans for B'nai B'rith's show, judging from reports issued by Dr. Murray Greene, chairman of the ticket committee. "This looks like one of the biggest nights yet," Dr. Greene asserted this morning.

Townsend will go into tonight's five round feature with one knockout and a decision to his credit over Gil Brown of Albany and Dan Harris, another Cleveland pugilist in the same stable as Champion.

Champion hasn't fought here since he dropped a decision to Ray Hale, Canadian lumberjack, at municipal stadium last summer. Before that he defeated Jimmy Rouse of Albany, now a pro. Rouse will be with Monk Armstrong in Townsend's corner tonight.

The rest of the card promises plenty of action with Roosevelt Flagg, Albany welterweight, and Eddie Marota, Cleveland, matched for the semi-final bout of five rounds.

Pillsworth Makes Debut

Jimmy Pillsworth, downtown boxer who has shown a lot of promise in his drills, and who won a decision on the Poughkeepsie card last Thursday, is slated to make his home debut tonight when he boxes the popular Harold Morton of Albany.

Carl Reinhardt, Newburgh, and Vince Savio, Middletown, are pitted for a return heavyweight match tonight. Reinhardt took the decision last Wednesday night.

The rest of the card is as follows:

Barney Emberson, Kingston, vs. Joe Zoldack, Cleveland, five rounds.

Dave Brandon, Kingston, vs. Chick Bentley, Schenectady.

Tommy Davis, Kingston, vs. Cy Johnson, Albany.

Frankie Bunce, Kingston, vs. Herbie Johnson, Kingston.

Stutz Now Works Well With Knicks

New York, Dec. 12 (AP)—Although he led the country in scoring several years ago and ran up a record 1,730 points in four years at Rhode Island State, it took Stan Stutz six weeks to convince Coach Neil Cohalan of the New York Knickerbockers that he belonged on the starting five.

The blond-haired Polish star sat on the bench during the first month of the Basketball Association of America season, seeing action only in the latter stages. A race-horse style of player, Stutz at first could not apply himself to the slower style employed by the Knicks. Now he seems to work with his mates as if he had played with them for years.

He got his first starting assignment last Thursday night in Boston and rewarded Cohalan by setting a scoring record of 29 points at the Boston Garden against the Celtics. He followed with a 21-point scoring spree against the Celtics here the next day.

Last night he netted 15 points as the Knickerbockers were routing the Providence Steam Rollers 83-68 for their 12th win in their last 13 games to maintain their one game margin over the second place Washington Capitols in the east.

Asks Another Date

Miami, Fla., Dec. 12 (AP)—The Ryder Cup matches, to be revived in this country in 1947, may be played earlier or later than the October date suggested by the British, President Ed Dudley of the Professional Golfers' Association said today. Dudley said he had cabled England requesting that some other date be set, pointing out that in October the Ryder Cuppers would be competing with football and the World Series for interest.

Crowd Expected Saturday For Annual A.A. Banquet

High School Officials Say Response Is Heavier Than Other Years; College Coach Will Speak

Judging from ticket sales, one of the best turnouts in recent years will attend the annual Kingston High School Athletic Association banquet Saturday evening at the Myron J. Michael School.

This year's banquet will be highlighted by the personal appearance of John "Ox" DaGrosa, head football coach at Holy Cross. Coach DaGrosa was secured a few weeks ago by G. Warren Kias, athletic director at the local school.

Coach DaGrosa was born in Atlantic City, N. J. Upon his graduation from Atlantic City High School he entered Colgate and was graduated from there in 1926. He later attended Georgetown Law School and received his diploma in 1930.

Worked with Lou Little

During his years at Georgetown, DaGrosa acted as line coach for the school from 1926 to 1930 under Lou Little, now head coach at Columbia University in New York city.

He also was line coach at Temple University in Philadelphia from 1930 to 1933 under Heinie Miller.

DeGrosa's football connections have not been with colleges alone. He was field coach of the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League from 1936 to 1937. Last season he was an assistant at Holy Cross under "Ank" Scanlon and then assumed the role as head coach this season. His team wound up the past football campaign with an upset victory over Boston College. DaGrosa accompanied the Crusaders to the Orange Bowl in 1945.

Aside from his duties as football coach, Mr. DaGrosa has done quite a bit of writing and lecturing in various parts of the country. One of his books is "Functional Football." He also has conducted football clinics and during the war he was physical fitness director for the Federal Government.

Rowland to Speak At Bellini Dinner Sunday Afternoon

Testimonial for Captain of DUSO Winners Is Slated for Cuneos, Starting 4 P. M.

Clarence Rowland, avid follower of Kingston High School's sports teams, will be the guest speaker at the Arnold Bellini testimonial dinner scheduled for Cuneo's Restaurant on Broadway Sunday afternoon, George Cragan, chairman, announced this morning.

"We're indeed fortunate in obtaining Mr. Rowland for this occasion," Mr. Cragan announced, "and I'm sure everyone who plans to attend will be grateful." Mr. Rowland recently sponsored the broadcast of the Thanksgiving Day football game between Kingston High and Newburgh Free Academy.

Sunday's testimonial in honor of Captain Bellini has been planned by Mr. Cragan and other citizens of the Wilbur district of Kingston. Bellini wound up his high school football career in the Thanksgiving Day game. For his brilliant performances throughout the year he was selected on The Freeman All-DUSO team and received a second team vote by scribes of the Hudson Valley Sportswriters' Association last week.

Others to Attend

Chairman Cragan also stated this morning that Bernard Feeney, president of the Board of Education, and William Lechive, chairman of the athletic committee, also will be on hand. Coach Willard Burke, who piloted Kingston to the first DUSO League pennant in football since 1936 and Coach Russ Cunninghamfi Burke's number one aide, also plan to attend.

The dinner is scheduled to start at 4 o'clock sharp.

Squad Will Train

New York, Dec. 12 (AP)—Members of the northern soccer squad which meets a southern team in the inaugural college all-star game here Saturday will train at West Point today and Friday as guests of the U. S. Military Academy.

Dot Rawding Posts 609 in Colonial League Wednesday

Mayorette Kegler Paces Team With 248 Solo; Charlotte Lapine Hits 236 Single

Dot Rawding, member of the Mayorettes, "wonder team" of the Emerick's Ladies League, continued her sensational bowling in the Colonial Women's League Wednesday night at the Central Recreation alleys and proceeded to pace her club to three wins over Arlenes by blasting out a sizzling 609 triple with a feature game of 248.

Dot opened with her lux game of 248 and then pounded the midtown maples for scores of 169 and 201 to give her that noteworthy 609 three-timer which highlighted the league last night.

Lapine Pounds 236

Charlotte Lapine, veteran female trundler of the M. Reina squad, came through with another big night as the midtown drives when she unleased a terrific 236 in her opening game. Charlotte's 236, coupled with games of 158 and 187 gave her a fine 581 series for the evening.

Evelyn Moore and Marge Jansen pounded out the only other 200 singletons in the Colonial Women's loop Wednesday. Evelyn Moore sparked the Evergreens to three wins over the Elks with her solo of 212 and triple of 541. Marge Jansen, rolling with the Jones Dari-Ettes, slammed out a 204 single and 585 three-timer.

Other notable scores rolled were Reta Frederick's 178-520, Dot Flemings 194-519, Evelyn Francis 176-519, Doris Wolff 196-515 and Betty Boyce 183-502.

Besides the Mayorettes' and Evergreens' sweep over Arlenes and Elks Auxiliary, other results in the league were Kingston Knit Mills three straight over Hungerfords, Phelan & Cahill's pair of wins over Cuneos, Chez Emile's double win over the Jones Dari-Ettes and Reina's two victories over Elstons.

Provenzano Fetes Bowlers, Guests Wednesday Night

Louis "Chick" Provenzano, proprietor of the Hofbrau on St. James street, feted members of his Hofbrau bowling team and members of the press and radio Wednesday evening.

The Hofbrau trundlers of the Kingston Major Bowling League included John "Red" Sangi, John Swint, Phil Masters, Tony LaRocca and Ed Whitaker.

Plan Annual Affair

In a brief speech of welcome to his bowlers and invited guests, Mr. Provenzano said that he plans to stage a similar banquet annually for his bowling representatives.

The first dry cell battery was made by a Frenchman, Georges La Clanche, in 1868.

It takes 11 pounds of coal to haul each ton of freight 100 miles.

Oklahoma to Play Tonight

New York, Dec. 12 (AP)—Hank Iba, canny coach of Oklahoma A. and M.'s N.C.A.A. basketball champions, who make their 18th appearance over a period of eight years at Madison Square Garden tonight, meeting Long Island University, admitted today his current freshman-studded crew of ball handlers does not compare with last year's all-conquering outfit, but promised to surprise plenty of fans, not to mention ambitious opponents.

Halas Continues His Worrying as Title Clash Nears

Luckman Limbers Passing Arm and Squad Is Given Showing of October Game

Chicago, Dec. 12 (AP)—Coach George Halas continued worrying today about the New York Football Giants' defense and Quarterback Sid Luckman sharpened up his passing arm as the Chicago Bears continued night and day practice sessions preparing for Sunday's National League title clash in the polo grounds.

Last night the squad looked at movies of the Oct. 27 Bears-Giants game and heard Scout Walter Halas' report on the New Yorkers' eastern championship, 31 to 0 clincher over Washington last week. Then, in unison, the Halas brothers complained:

"A team that can hold both the Bears and Redskins scoreless in one season is coming close to achieving the impossible."

As Walter choked up at the very thought of the tough New Yorkers, George continued the lament alone:

"Steve Owen's teams are always tough to score on, but this one is exceptional. Last Sunday the Giants not only outcharged the powerful Washington line but rushed Sammy Baugh so consistently he simply didn't have time to locate his receivers and get his passes away."

By the time Halas went from one end of the Giant line to another, it appeared that the Bears didn't have a chance. The Bear mentor had worked up to his peak "fear" of the season.

Luckman, a Brooklyn boy who always tries for a superb performance in the Polo Grounds, yesterday recalled the 14 to 0 defeat the Giants handed the Chicagoans on Oct. 27 in the east.

"Let's not talk about it," he said. "What a terrible day I had. Five interceptions by New York among other things."

Luckman gave the impression yesterday that the Giants' pass defenders will be in for a busy day Sunday, although pass tossing Frank Filchock, George Franck and Steve Filipowicz may give the Chicago backer-uppers an equally bad day.

The Bears, who have won two of three previous championship playoff games with the Giants, will leave for New York tomorrow afternoon.

Pop Says Glenn Davis Will Stay in Army

Claremont, Calif., Dec. 12 (AP)—Take it from Pop Davis, his illustrious son, Glenn, of the U. S. Military Academy's football team, doesn't intend to resign from West Point after his athletic career is wound up.

Ralph Davis had just returned from the east where he saw Glenn play his final Army game, against the naval academy. Glenn has had both professional baseball and football offers, but his dad denied he had any thought of accepting them.

Irving Crane Is BilliardsChampion

Former Titlist Mosconi Takes High Honors

Philadelphia, Dec. 12 (AP)—Irving Crane of Livonia, N. Y., was the world's pocket billiards champion today but the dethroned titlist, Willie Mosconi, walked off with the major individual laurels of the two week tournament.

Crane scored a 10-inning victory over Andrew Ponzi of Philadelphia, 125 to 97, last night to wind up in first place in the field of eight.

Mosconi captured second place by defeating Jimmy Caras of Wilmington, Del., 125 to 92 in 13 innings.

The 33-year-old Crane, who held the championship in 1942 before losing to Erwin Rudolph of Chardon, O., won $2,000 for taking the title. Mosconi received $1,500 plus two bonuses of $100 each for racking up the tourney's longest run and for winning in the shortest number of innings.

Caras, who finished in a three-way tie for third with Rudolph and Onofrio Lauri of Brooklyn, N. Y., was awarded third place on the basis of total points, Rudolph placed fourth and Lauri fifth. Caras received $1,250, Rudolph $1,000 and Lauri $750.

The three other contestants, Arthur Cranfield of Syracuse, N. Y.; Ponzi, and Joe Canton of Watervliet, N. Y., each received $600.

Crane took an early lead over Ponzi in last night's match with runs of 30, 35 and 39, and had little difficulty pulling out the contest that counted.

In The Pocket

with

CHARLIE TIANO

There is something soul-satisfying about celebrating an outstanding sports accomplishment, such as Kingston High School's epochal march to the 1946 DUSO League championship.

We got that impression last week at the annual Kiwanis dinner for Coach Bill Burke's triumphant Maroon gridders. Kiwanis entertains Kingston High School football squads once a year, win, lose or draw in the DUSO pennant chase. But this time there was no reason for speakers to dwell on the old familiar theme of "better luck next time," "wait-until-next-year," "you-lost-but-you-did-your-best" or "we're proud of you because you played the game all the way, even if you didn't win the pennant."

No such talk last week. Kiwanis was entertaining a championship Kingston High School eleven, the first in a decade. The conversation centered on this year's triumph and predictions for another winning combination in 1947. The large turnout of Kiwanians knew that this was no ordinary team, rather an aggregation that had risen from the depths of defeat and despondency to a DUSO champion in such fashion that will cause the team to be ranked among the all time greats of Kingston High.

Victory is sweet. It is even sweeter when it is achieved in the 1946 K.H.S. manner. Over and above their magnificent coaching job, Bill Burke and Russ Cunningham achieved in one year the seemingly impossible task of ridding the school, the town and players of a defeatist attitude that had been prevalent for a long while. The defeatist menace has been destroyed and will never rise again during Burke's regime. Kingston may not produce a DUSO championship squad in 1947 but it will be represented by a fighting team that will win its share of victories.

It's not unusual for high school reporters to describe exploits of local high school football celebrities with glowing adjectives. . . . City desk men have been deleting from high school reporters copy since time immemorial adjectives like sensational . . . phenomenal . . . brilliant . . . superb . . . spectacular . . . It seems all young reporters are afflicted with acute adjectivitis. . . . More than often coaches are disturbed by the indiscriminate use of such adjectives. The coaches, it seems, are always anxious to guard against inflationary tendencies in the young athletes' heads. It is a plausible apprehension.

But when a head coach starts tossing posies at individual members of his varsity, you know it's the real McCoy. . . . So when Coach Burke singled out a few athletes for public tribute, the Kiwanians lent an attentive ear.

Coach Burke described Bill Kitsos as one of the finest high school line backers he had ever seen. If you saw young Kitsos smother Newburgh ball carriers in the game at municipal stadium, you knew what Coach Burke meant. He praised Dee Titus for doing a bangup job of play selecting and complimented him for completing 60 per cent of his forward passes, a brilliant record for a first year passer. And this, mind you, with a team that was never forward-pass conscious. Russ Cunningham, the Jayvee mentor, referred to Buddy Jones as the "All Elastic Back." Buddy apparently could do many things and do them all well. The coaches praised all the other boys but Messrs. Jones, Titus and Kitsos got an extra lift from the coaches' speeches. Such tribute from a coach overshadows any series of glowing adjectives ever concocted by mere reporters.

We liked one remark by Mr. Cunningham. He said that it was quite obvious that while building a winning team the coaches were also moulding character. No group of boys could come back from such depths of defeat to great victory without having picked up something in the way of character along the way, Mr. Cunningham observed. And how true this must be.

Clarence Rowland made a few observations that deserve mention. Dwelling on public misconception of football he declared that many people overlook the character-building qualities of high school football. Even in this modern age, he said, there are too many people who regard football as just a game in which 22 young huskies spend a couple of hours pushing and mauling each other around on a gridiron. Not enough people, he added, appreciate the influence of good coaches on the character of young players. In this connection he said Mr. Burke and Mr. Cunningham were brought to Kingston because over and above being great coaches they were character builders. They are, Mr. Rowland said, the kind of men with whom you would like to have your high school sons associate.

Coach Burke in a forthright statement soft-pedalled talk of over emphasis on football. He said Kingston was building a football system but was exerting neither greater energy nor spending any more money than any DUSO school in the drive for a championship team. He pointed to the hiring of new coaching staffs at other DUSO schools as proof of his assertion.

While on the subject of overemphasis it is interesting to note that Wesley "Bo" Gill, Newburgh News sports ed, said following the Kingston-Newburgh debacle. Mr. Gill is well versed in scholastic sports but for once we feel his fears are premature. Gill said:

"Yesterday's (Thanksgiving) game left a lot of improvement for both sides. C. Everett Stevens of Newburgh and Coach G. Warren Kias have been working hard to cultivate better relations between the two schools. . . . Their efforts were swept away yesterday by a large crowd. . . . Football has turned into a money-making Frankenstein with the commercial trend bringing on such disgraceful conditions. . . . It would have been better if everyone had stayed in bed. . . ."

Boston Yanks Get Smith as Coach

Will Succeed Herb Kopf on Short-Term Basis

Boston, Dec. 12 (AP)—The Boston Yanks of the National Football League today produced Maurice (Clipper) Smith as their 1947 head coach.

Smith, who recently waived the last four of a five-years contract at the University of San Francisco agreed to succeed Herb Kopf here on a short term basis.

He told Yank officials he stepped out of San Francisco about a week ago because he doubted he could produce winning teams there under existing conditions. In his new contract he reserved the right to quit if unable to gain immediate success in professional ranks.

One of Notre Dame's earliest "Watch Charm" guards under the late Knute Rockne, Smith started his college coaching career at Santa Clara. He gained his greatest successes at Villanova from 1936-42 and during those years was reputed to have rejected three offers from Boston College and one from Holy Cross. During the war he was a lieutenant in the Marine Corps.

Kopf, a star end at Washington and Jefferson, served as Lou Little's assistant at both Georgetown and Columbia before accepting the head coaching berth at Manhattan in 1938. He directed the Jaspers until 1942 when they abandoned football, and came here two years later as duration stand-in for "Sleepy Jim" Crowley, who was Collins' initial coaching choice.

Owner Ted Collins' Boston football associates said that Kopf's contract had another year to run but that the Yanks' would make "the necessary settlement."

Phillies Discover Ambitions Demand Plenty of Money

Charley Schanz Becomes First Holdout; Seven Players Are Signed, Pennock Says

Philadelphia, Dec. 12 (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies are learning daily that building up the club's baseball fortunes runs into the money.

President Bob Carpenter and General Manager Herb Pennock already are beset by troubles brought on by a team that finished a surprising fifth and played before a record breaking attendance of more than a million fans.

The men who upped the Phils from their yearly abode in the National League cellar apparently are attempting to reap the reward.

Bespectacled Charley Schanz, right handed pitcher, yesterday became the first official Phil holdout, Pennock said, as he revealed the signing of seven players. Only the day before the Phils' office was visited by Husky Del Ennis, "rookie of the year" in many quarters, and Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe, both of whom talked salary and then departed without signing contracts.

Pennock said he wouldn't officially class Ennis and Rowe as holdouts since the club didn't sent out contracts until February 1. But Pennock didn't mention how pitchers Ken Raffensberger and Charley Stanceu, third baseman Jim Tabor, catcher Andy Seminick, outfielder Johnny Wyrostek, and two rookie shortstops managed to sign non-existent contracts.

Pennock would be much happier if he could greet the new year with signed documents from Emil Verban, whose second basing sparked the 1946 team and big Frank McCormick, a better than average first baseman. Pitcher Blix Donnelly, curve ball artist is supposed to be satisfied with terms but remains unsigned.

Prexy Carpenter is hoping Branch Rickey, Brooklyn Dodger owner, makes a few New Years resolutions, among them a pledge to reduce that $100,000 tag on shortstop Stan Rojek. And wouldn't it be nice, Carpenter says, if the New York Giants would part with Johnny Kerr, or the Boston Braves with Dick Culler—for a little less than half the ball club.

Carpenter and Pennock agree. It's mighty expensive to win a few.

New York, Dec. 12 (AP)—The photo finish and the saliva test will be mandatory for the 15 member tracks participating in a record 1947 harness racing program of 25 weeks, the Board of Stewards of the Grand Circuit, Inc., has ruled.

And, as another step forward, the stewards at their 74th annual session here yesterday named a committee to study the possibility of using a mobile laboratory to take the saliva tests.

The proposal was made by Frank Wiswall of Saratoga, who suggested the laboratory could follow the circuit since there are no conflicting meets. Wherever state racing commissions have had supervision over harness racing because of pari-mutuel betting, there have been saliva tests, but at state fairs without mutuels it has not been compulsory.

Harness racing's "Derby"—the Hambletonian—will be run at Goshen, N. Y., during the Aug. 4-10 meeting but the exact date was not set. The race will have a value of $51,845. The stewards announced the award by the Trotting Horse Club of America, Inc., of other stakes at Grand Circuit tracks next year with a total value near $100,000.

Jeep Defies Storm

If it had not been for a jeep, two groups of motorists would have been stranded in the Namib Desert when ankle-deep sand covered the road after the sandstorm. The motorists, including the resident magistrate at Aus, South West Africa, were making the 80-mile trip from Aus to Luderitz when two cars stuck, after struggling through 18 miles of sand. Even with the help of the jeep, which fortunately was in the convoy, they could not be extricated. So all hands piled into the jeep, which spurned the sands.

Accidental injuries occur in American homes at the rate of one every six and a half seconds.

Better Bowling

By BILLY SIXTY

By BILLY SIXTY

SHOULDER PAT: The ball must be started near the right hand gutter when an alley is highly polished or slick. It is preferable, if possible, that speed be applied in the case of a back-up (reverse) or a straight ball for direction and power.

The hook bowler, however, should use medium speed. He should also ROLL the ball, releasing it approximately ON THE FOUL LINE, instead of pitching it out or lofting it over the line.

Speed or lofting will cause the ball to skid down the alley most of the way. If the hook-turn takes at all, the break on the ball will be late and without power. It fails to carry high enough into the 1-3 pocket to contact the No. 5 pin.

To avoid speed and at the same time get rolling action on the ball, with spin and mixing results, reduce footwork to an easy walk. Push the ball outward, very slowly, away from the body, in timing with the first step, and allow the arm to swing loosely in the arm socket as the additional steps are taken, all slowly.

The forward swing, if slow and loose, will wind up the stride smoothly and relaxed at the foul line for an easy, accurate follow-through. I have a sound tip to offer that has helped me get effective hook-turn and direction:

Concentrate on patting your LEFT SHOULDER in completing the follow-through. Practice will make it habit, and it's a good habit to cultivate—a habit that pays off in strikes.

Frank Wickhorst To Leave University

Berkeley, Calif., Dec. 12 (AP)—Frank Wickhorst, all-America tackle for Navy in 1926, was out of a job today after his first season as head football coach at the University of California.

Only the formalities of terminating his three-year contract remained after the Associated Students Executive Committee and university authorities agreed last night to demands of students and alumni that Wickhorst and his three assistants be ousted because the Bears won only two of nine games the past season.

The Students' Executive Committee, which passes on all university athletic expenditures, scheduled a closed meeting today with Wickhorst to discuss settlement of his contract—involving some $24,000 in salary—and what form his departure would take. He was expected to resign.

Wickhorst told reporters he would make no statement until after the contract settlement.

He would not comment on reports he was being considered for a coaching job at Michigan State.

Elevator's Fall Fatally Injures 2

Maine Accident Sends 10 Others to Hospital

Dover-Foxcroft, Me., Dec. 12 (AP)—Two of 12 women employes injured yesterday when an elevator dropped 35 feet in the American Woolen Company's Brown Mill died today in a hospital.

Two other women remained in critical condition.

The dead were Mrs. Lizzie Wyman, 68, who suffered a fractured skull, broken neck and two compound fractures of the legs, and Miss Abdie Burdin, 62, who had two skull fractures, back injuries and compound fractures of both legs.

Eleven of the women suffered fractures of at least one leg, and some had other more serious injuries.

Officials attributed most of the injuries to the fact that the cables, cable-drum and supporting framework, weighing altogether about 500 pounds, crashed through the car roof after it had fallen from the third floor to the bottom of the well.

The women were pinned to the car floor by the mass of steel and wreckage of the wooden roof and it was more than an hour before all could be extricated.

Man Is Killed

Mt. Vernon, N. Y., Dec. 12 (AP)—One man was killed, police said, and another injured today in a collision of a truck and a commuter train from New York at the Fleetwood station a short distance north of here. The men were in the truck. Their names were not learned. Trains outbound from New York were delayed by the accident, but those headed for the city were able to continue after only a brief interruption.
